County Present to Hear
Bailey Tells of Details

COMMITTEE of 80 Orange county leaders, with an executive group of five members
led by County Auditor W. C.
Bailey, has launched today an organized campaign on behalf of $15,500,000 flood control and conservation program for county, approved by the board of supervisors, citizens of nationwide and consulting engineers,
which a bond election will be on June 25.

Small action was taken late Friday at a meeting of this group in department one of the court here, to which every interested in the project
been invited. The meeting
made possible through adoption of a resolution by the conservation committee of the assisted chambers of commerce,
requested the board of supervisors to report to a body of visible citizens on the results of flood control investigations
held out at their request.

Willard Smith, chairman of board of supervisors, presided, bringing carried out the provisions of the act of legislature making possible the flood control act possible, the supervisors pleated their task by acquainting the citizens with the results of their work and that of the engineering staff. They will take their work again, as directors of flood control district, if the election succeeds.

Name Committee
The men selected to act with the executive committee were S. W. Smith, Fullerton; W. Crill, Garden Grove; M.
Wellington, Lemon Heights; Stanley Mansur, Orange. The committee for formation of an executive committee was made by C.
T. T. pioneer water conservation leader in Orange county.
The scope of the committee's work was further defined through motions adopted later, one
by L. F. Coburn, of Orange, chairman of the conservation com-
tee; and another made by S.
Smith, Fullerton. Smith's motion was made by William Schu-ber, Smith being unable to attend. Coburn's motion authorized executive committee to act at discretion in enlarging the campaign committee, co-ordinating activities of sub-committees
in raising funds for the campaign. Smith's motion authorized executive group to organize a program of education on the part of the county, arrange for publication of facts regarding the program, speakers, dates for their appearance, and similar work.

San Diego Air Board To Try First Offender

SAN DIEGO, May 13. —
(UP)—The city board of air control will conduct the first trial of an air law violator here Wednesday.
A commercial pilot, whose name was not revealed, was charged with having flown
within 200 feet of the ground
over a residential section.
Penalty for his violation of the "low flying law" carries a possible $200 fine and not more than a 60-day jail sentence.
A. J. Moore, president of the board, asked that all residents who have complaints to make in regard to unsafe flying taking place within the jurisdiction of this city be present at the trial
to add their charges to those already preferred, so that a precedent may be established.

PROHIBITION CONTROVERSY GETS WARMER

Both Sides Eagerly Await Commission Appointment
By President

WASHINGTON, May 13. —
(UP)—Both sides in the prohibition controversy are becoming active in view of the probable appointment of President Hoover's law enforcement commission within 10 days or two weeks.
The association against the prohibition amendment asserted today prohibition is costing taxpayers of the country about $936,000,000 a year including the loss of excise revenue which it is held must be made up in other ways.

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the board of temperance of the Methodist Episcopal church south, who bolted the Democratic ticket last year, in a formal statement gave President Hoover advice on the appointment and scope of the immission which indicated this leader of the prohibition forces is not entirely in sympathy with the Hoover plan insofar as it has been revealed to the public.

Bishop Cannon declined to comment on reports that George Wiekedsham, who recently criticized the prohibition amendment, was appointed to the commission.

(UP)—Mrs. Virginia Yelton, 19, who Saturday night ran down and killed Dr. Faith Leong, Chinese physician, today was in the city husband, Albert Yelton, 27. He is serving a 22-day sentence for offensive conduct in a city park.

STATE SOLONS IN MAD RUSH TO END WORK

Legislature Scheduled to Adjourn at 3 o'Clock
On Wednesday

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 13. —
May 13. —(UP)—Its days numbered, the 1929 session of the California state legislature tried with waning strength today to stage a few legislative battles before it expires.
With only three days remaining
of the present session—the longest on record, save one—legislators made desperate efforts to revive their pet measures for at least a vote before they died a natural death on house files.

The hour of adjournment has been officially set at 3 p. m. Wednesday but following a time-honored custom, the legislative clocks will be stopped at that time and the two houses will work on until their work is finished.

Because of the Hardy impeachment trial, the present session will have consumed 99 days when it has ended. The only longer session was in 1923, which exceeded
this session by two days.

A number of hotly-contested insues were slated for consideration
this week, despite frantic efforts to block debate and obtain votes on uncontested bills. These included the following:
Transfer of San Francisco harbor.

OKLAHOMA, KANSAS FLOODED BY RIVERS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 13. —(UP)—Flooded by intermittent rains over the week end, streams in Oklahoma and southern Kansas today were spilling over their banks, flooding lowlands and doing damage
to property and crops.

Streams that continued to threaten today were the Little Cane, Ne-sho, Verdigris, Big Cabin and Grand rivers in the northeast part,
where water from Kansas have caused them to run bank full. The Washita and Little rivers in the south central area continued to threaten with heavily clouded skies
and rains continuing.

Swollen streams today had taken one life—that of a man prominent in early Oklahoma history.
John L. McGee, county commissioner of Nobel county, was swept away by a small stream that flooded the highway near Red Rock on Sunday.

L. A. TO CONSTRUCT BIG TUJUNGA DAM

LOS ANGELES, May 13. —(UP)— Work will begin at once on the first of four dams to control the flood waters of Big Tujunga watershed district, E. O. Eaton, flood control engineer, announced today.

The first project to be undertaken will be a 240-foot dam on the upper Tujunga above Hanson's lodge, he said. This barrier is expected to increase gravel production by 1,500,000,000 gallons per year.

Lauds Mother In Sermon At M. E. Church

Dr. George Warner Declares Watchword of Future Is to Be "Duties"

"THIS MORNING our subject is Mother. She is a new idea that is terrible to all hated, overpowering to all fishiness and consuming of all dross and lack of sympathy where-ever found."

This was the declaration made by the Rev. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church, in his sermon yesterday morning on the subject, "Woman, Liability or Asset." Kiwanians were the invited guests of the church yesterday and many members, with their families, joined in the worship service for the Mothers' day program.

"Our world has been a man's world," he continued. "Mayhap
that's the major trouble with it.
We have emphasized the masculine virtues of strength, power and force. The feminine virtues of tenderness, love and patience are rising upon us. At their noonday they will revolutionize the settings of our lives and uproot many things that have always been held as supreme."

The watchword of the past was Rights, of the future it will be Duties. The slogan of the old world was "I am as good as you."
The slogan of the future will be,
"You are as good as I." As Harry F. Ward declares it is not the will to power but the will to serve that must become the basis of our inspiration. Co-operation will overthrow and drive out competition, root and branch. Pedagogical procedure and painstaking understanding will easily upset the hickory stick method in education. Learning by rote reading, writing and arithmetic will be supplanted by meditation of life's problems while emotional revivalism must hasten to become Christian education.

"The idea of mother is as terrible as Attila the Hun. His peaceful penetration is throwing us into crisis after crisis and we know not from whence the confusion arises."

"But let us not forget that all true trophies of the ages are from mother love empearled and the hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world. Mother is a home builder. Mothers have built confidence into the heart of the world. Mother is an inspiration;
mother teaches the pathway to sacrifice."

'SHOWER OF GEMS' TRIAL IS OPENED

DENVER, Colo., May 13. —(UP)—
The second "shower of gems"
trial of Harry "Toots" Grimes, Denver society man, resulting from two Salt Lake jewel robberies, was to get under way in court here today.

The first trial of the case resulted in a hung jury.
Grimes is alleged to have knowingly received gems stolen from the Salt Lake holdups, one the robbery of the Schlack Jewelry company, and the other of V. C. Brown,
New York jewel salesman, and then to have shopped them in the younger set of Denver society.

Charles Evans Hughes Jr. to be solicitor general of the justice department was referred to a subcommittee today by the senate judiciary committee.

Colorado; Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin; and King, Democrat, Utah, were named to the sub-committee.

WORK ON NEW POST OFFICE SEEN IN 1930

Federal Engineer to Wind Up His Hearings Here
By Wednesday

Possibility that congress might appropriate funds for construction of Santa Ana's $245,000 federal building in December and that the contract for its construction might be let in January, 1930, was seen today as William A. Newman, district engineer of the supervising architect's office of the treasury department, San Francisco, was preparing to wind up his hearings here in regard to selection of a site. Newman expects to leave Santa Ana within the next few days.

If action in connection with the program proceeds according to schedule as it has been, it is expected that steps in the matter
may be taken by congress in December.

Newman said today that he virtually is prepared to make his recommendations regarding the site for the post office structure.
More than one site however, is under consideration at the present time, he stated.

First news of the selection of the location will come to Santa Ana by telegram from Washington,
he said. Newman's recommendations will be acted upon by the treasury department there.

The government official pointed out today the extreme care with which sites must be considered.
His report will contain an explanation on each of scores of items referring to the availability of sites offered.

He also explained that whenever the owner of a desirable site does not offer it, or does not make a bid at a reasonable price because of complications in the title
or for other reasons, the government may start condemnation proceedings in a federal court. In these proceedings, if damages proposed to be awarded for a given site are excessive, the government may dismiss the proceedings and take another site into consideration, Newman explained. He said further that in such a case the owner of the property involved in condemnation proceedings would

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 13. —(UP)— With several problems on hand calling for immediate action, fundamentalists of the Baptist denomination from all sections of North America will open the seventeenth annual convention of the Baptist Bible Union of North America here tomorrow.

One of the major problems for the union is the school crisis at Des Moines university, the union's only school, where 400 students
Saturday showed their displeasure
by hurling objects at the board of trustees, because the latter body
had approved the demand of Dr.
T. T. Shields, of Toronto, chairman, for dismissal of teachers and Dr. H. C. Wayman, president.

PLACENTIA SCHOOL DAMAGED BY FIRE

Fire damaged the beautiful Bradford avenue grammar school in Placentia early this afternoon. The 400 pupils marched out in orderly manner when the alarm was given and none was injured.

According to reports, the fire started in the basement of the school. The cause is not known.

Firemen were handicapped by lack of water but finally succeeded in extinguishing the flames.

The auditorium of the school
was completed last year.

The Placentia firemen were aided by the apparatus from Fullerton.

Mission City Host Saturday At Ceremonies

Father St. John O'Sullivan Suggests Ortega Highway As Name

ONCE MORE the pioneering spirit of the West was in evidence today as a huge steam shovel, launched on its task last Saturday, was eating its way along the route of the new highway which will join San Juan Capistrano and Elsinore. Between 400 and 500 people from Orange, Los Angeles and Riverside counties gathered at San Juan Hot Springs on Saturday for a huge barbecue given by the San Juan Capistrano chamber of commerce and for the dedication of the new roadway, climaxed by actual starting of work with a steam shovel operated by the J. W. Breed-love company.

Father St. John O'Sullivan, of the San Juan Capistrano mission, welcomed the scores of guests and gave the affair a pioneering atmosphere
when he suggested that the new road be called Ortega highway in honor of Don Jose Francisco de Ortega, who, he said, actually started the San Juan Capistrano mission.
Ortega was a pathfinder, Father O'Sullivan declared, a man who was the actual discoverer of San Francisco bay, and who was in charge of the San Diego, Santa Barbara and Monterey presidios at different times.

Touch of Drama
But more important still, Father O'Sullivan declared, a lineal descendant of Ortega helped to lay out the route which the new road will take. A touch of drama was injected into the event when Father O'Sullivan called to his side William Jeffrey, son of Supervisor George Jeffrey, and announced that here was the descendant of Ortega who linked the present pioneering spirit with that of the early Spanish days.

Father O'Sullivan was introduced by J. S. Maloolin, general chairman of arrangements and principal speaker.

CONTINENTAL AIR EXPRESS TO INCLUDE S. A. ON ITS SCHEDULE

That Santa Ana is becoming decidedly "air minded," to adopt the popular phrase of the day, received additional proof in announcement made today that the Eddie Martin airport on South Main street, has been included by the Continental Air Express in its schedule of daily trips, following the visit here on Saturday of I. N. Bronson, a financial director in the Continental corporation. A. B. Stocker, who has spent several weeks
in this city investigating the situation, will remain here permanently it was stated, in charge of the Santa Ana district. He will have his offices with Mayor Frank P. Purinton, 206 West Second street.

It was a striking thing to those interested in the further development of the local field,
that the presence of Bronson
of the Continental company, at the airport should coincide

San Gabriel Road To Remain Open

AZUSA, Calif., May 13. — (UP)—The San Gabriel Canyon road will remain open to automobile traffic under supervision of county motorcycle police, the county board of supervisors announced today.

The road was tentatively opened on May 1 to allow sportsmen access to the trout streams above the dam site.
It was believed at the time
that increasing hauling to the scene of construction would necessitate closing of the route.

At a meeting of supervisors
city attorney and contractors
it was agreed that the road should remain open to the public at least for the rest of this year, under police supervision.

GARDEN GROVE MAN CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

Accused by Wife of Trying

W. H. CONNOLLY, 69, of Gar-

ing a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder as the result of an attack he is alleged to have made on his wife and 16-year-old daughter-in-law in the family residence on West street, in Garden Grove,
at 5:30 p. m., yesterday.

Connolly is charged by his wife
with attacking her with a revolver striking her over the head with the weapon, and driving both women from the house with threats to shoot them, according to Deputy Don Moxley, who with Deputy Humiston, answered the call that came to the sheriff's office.

S. F. GANGSTER IN PLEA FOR PAROLE

SAN QUENTIN, May 13. —(UP)— Application of Edward "KO" Kru-vosky, a member of the notorious Howard street gang of San Francisco, for parole from San Quentin prison, where he is serving a 50-year sentence, was in the hands of the state prison board today.

Kruvosky, with four other members of the Howard street gang,
was convicted of criminal attacks on two young girls. His parole application will be acted upon during the May session of the prison board.

During the two-day session of the board ending Sunday, 14, pa-rols were granted, none being cases of major importance. Thirteen convicts were ordered deported and 28 hearings were denied.

IOWA SOLON FIRES BACK AT ENEMIES

Shouts Out Charges During Heated Address Before Crowded Floor, Gallery

EXPECT VOTE TODAY

Farm Bloc to Throw Support to Democrats in Effort to Pass Relief Bill

(UP)—Senator Smith W.
Brookhart of Iowa struck back in the senate today at those who have been calling him a "pseudo-Republican" by accusing President Hoover of calling "a pseudo-special-session of congress to enact a pseudo-farm-relief
bill."

"That's where the spuriousness,
the fraud and the counterfeiting comes in," Brookhart shouted to a crowded floor and a gallery filled with distinguished persons including Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth and Mrs. Dolly Gann, figures in Washington's social dispute who sat together in the vice president's row of the gallery.

The Iowa senator said the pending farm bill adds nothing more than the 1923 law already provides through the intermediate credit banks. That law was found to be inadequate to meet the farmers' needs, he said. The new one also will be inadequate, Brookhart declared.

"I do not wish to detract from the credit which is given to Senator Borah for persuading Mr.
Hoover to call this extra session
during the campaign," he continued. "But I spoke to Mr.
Hoover about it as far back as July 12. I had been in Georgia investigating some stand-pat maneuvers in post office appointments."

Mr. Hoover readily assented.
Dr. Work was present. It was suggested that in order not to ruffle the feathers of President Coolidge, they would make it so that the special session would be called if no action was taken in the regular session.

"Now I am called a pseudo-Republican. I put it in the congressional directory that I am a progressive-Republican."

Brookhart's speech started the session which was to bring final passage of the bill before night,
unless subsequent debate delays final action until tomorrow. The farm bloc, Brookhart included, has thrown its support with the Democrats to control a majority in favor of the bill which will be voted by President Hoover if it ever gets through the house, administration leaders say.

SPANISH-AMERICAN VETERANS CONVE

SACRAMENTO, May 13. —(UP)— Warriors who fought side by side during the stirring days of the Spanish-American war marched here today at the 26th annual encampment of the United Spanish-American War Veterans.

Veterans from all parts of the state, 1200 strong, composed this army as it mobilized for a three-day convention.

Garbed in heavy blue shirts,
wide-brimmed hats and light army trousers, the veterans took over the city today after an official welcome by Governor Young,
on behalf of the state, and Mayor Martin I. Welsh.

Steps toward greater harmony
within the organization and plans for new peace campaigns will be discussed by the veterans during their three-day session here.

paign against gambling clubs today had netted the crime prevention squad $1165 and the arrest of 33 keepers and visitors.

The money was seized and the arrests made during a raid on the rooms of the Bay Cities Club, Inc., Lieut. Michael Mitchell and three sides gained entrance to the club

James law, is to be a member of the proposed law enforcement commission. Cannon did say however, it would be better for the president not to attempt to confine membership on his commission to lawyers. He also has no sympathy with the suggestion the commission should be composed of members disassociated with the prohibition issue.

"I still adhere to the view 'that at least one member of the commission should be recognized throughout the country as thoroughly conversant with every phase of the development of the prohibition movement for the past twenty-five years," he said.

"I also hold that some man of ability who is recognized as an honest, outstanding opponent of the prohibition law should be on the commission. I also am of the opinion that one member should be a woman."

Unofficially it has been indicated Mr. Hoover wants to emphasize law enforcement in general and not single out prohibition.

At the White House it is indicated the president is completing the personnel of his commission and expects to announce it within two weeks.

MIDWAY CITY

MIDWAY CITY, May 13.—Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Shirey and daughter, Miss Helen Shirey, and son, John Shirey, in company with Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Kellogg and son, Clyde Kellogg, of Rock Springs, Wyo., and Sam Ramsey and daughter, June Ramsey, of Long Beach, took a trip to Oceanside and San Clemente one day last week.

Ed. L. Hensley has been attending to business in Long Beach this week.

Mrs. Rosegrant sr., who was brought home from the hospital the first of the week, is resting easier but is not able to be up.

EIGHT CRASHES ARE REPORTED OVER WEEK END

Lady Luck again rode the Orange county highways over the week end, for in eight accidents reported to authorities, only 15 persons were injured and reports from physicians and hospitals this morning indicate that although some of the injuries are serious, all victims will recover.

Frank Granadoz jr., 15, of 710 South Bristol street; Ralph Hernandez, 40, of 1214 West Cubbon street, and Edward Estrada, 20, 201 North Lewis street, Visalia, are patients in the Orange County hospital as a result of a crash between the car they were riding in and a car driven by J. L. Driver at the intersection of Newport road and Fairview road, in Costa Mesa, at 12:30 p. m., yesterday. The Granadoz boy is suffering from concussion of the brain and cuts about the face, while Hernandez has a fractured pelvis and the Visalia youth is suffering from deep scalp lacerations and cuts about the right eye.

The crash occurred when the car, occupied by the trio, driven by Raul Hernandez, son of one of the injured men, was struck by the car driven by Driver, who is a guest from Oklahoma in the home of W. B. Yergen, in Costa Mesa, as Driver was making a left turn from Newport road into Fairview road, the report said.

Taken to Beach First
The injured men were taken to Newport Beach hospital for first aid treatment and later removed to the Orange County hospital. The father of the Granadoz boy, who also was an occupant of the wrecked car, received superficial injuries, as did Raul Hernandez, the driver.

When the driver of a sedan, containing four young women, found that there would not be room to pass a car she had started to go around, she lost control of the car and it overturned, causing injuries to her three companions, a report of the crash said. The accident took place on the state highway, two miles south of Irvine, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Esther Berison and Beatrice Freeman, both of 434 South Rampart street, Los Angeles, and Rosemary Thomason, route 1, Garden Grove, were injured, were brought to the Santa Ana Valley hospital for first aid treatment in case of passing motorists. The driver of the car, Louise Rosencrantz, 844 1-2 North Hampshire avenue, Los Angeles, was not injured. Miss Berison was treated for back injuries and Miss Thomason and Miss Freeman received cuts and bruises.

A riderless motorcycle, careening down a street in Balboa, accounted for two of the accident victims Saturday afternoon, when it dashed over the curb into a crowd of spectators, who had been watching the rider perform stunts. Edwin Roth, 18-year-old Los Angeles youth, and E. A. Bigsby, wealthy Pasadena resident, were knocked down when the plunging machine struck them. Roth sustained a broken left leg and cuts about the arms and body. Bigsby had his ankle broken, according to reports from the beach city. Both men had indicated their desire for a conservation and flood control program, the supervisors had taken steps to have the district formed after District Attorney Z. B. West, Jr., had investigated legislative acts creating similar district and had found that of Los Angeles county to be most adaptable. This act had met the supreme court test, Coburn said, and was kept in mind by West in drafting the Orange county act. After investigation, the board selected Paul Bailey, then state engineer, to carry on investigations. It also selected an advisory committee and the two groups met each month with Bailey to discuss progress being made.

Approve Program

A. J. Wiley, Boise, Idaho, now chief engineer for Boulder dam; Charles H. Paul, Dayton, O., and F. C. Hermann, San Francisco, all outstanding engineers, conferred with Bailey in the final stages of the studies and gave their unqualified approval to the program.

Bailey outlined the plan, pointing out that he had been instructed by the board to prepare plans for works which would be safe beyond question, to plan structures adequately, and to plan them most economically. He pointed out the necessity of planning for the future, referring to the lowering water levels in Orange county.

C. E. Utt, arden conservationist, addressed the group and declared that, with the plan proposed in operation, the future of Orange county will be assured. Ninety per cent of the county's agricultural wealth is produced under irrigation, he said, pointing out that more water is now being used than is coming into the county.

Utt said that, with 40-year bonds, annual payments of $300,000 would take care of the expense of the project. He declared, however, that the expenditure of this money would keep in the county $5,000,000 yearly through stimulation of agriculture and business.

On taking the chair in general charge of the campaign, Jerome pointed out that under present conditions Orange county has reached its limit agriculturally but that it still can go forward to new heights if its wealth is conserved through the water program proposed. He were taken to the Newport Beach hospital and later transferred to the Golden Gate hospital, in Los Angeles. The name of the motorcycle rider, who had been thrown from the machine while standing on the saddle, was not learned.

Mother, Daughters Hurt

Mrs. Anna Rogers, of 1051 West First street, and her two daughters, Marie, 9, and Margaret Jane, 6, were given first aid treatment in the Orange County hospital last night for injuries they received in a motor accident south of Anaheim. The daughters escaped without bruises, while the mother sustained deep cuts about the face in addition to bruises and cuts on the body.

Allen Retter, 9, who lives at 517 South Flower street, received cuts on one leg and bruises and cuts about the head when he was struck by a roadster said to have been driven by W. M. Hulen, 18, of 1841 South Van Ness street, at the corner of Bristol and South Flower street, where, according to a report filed at police headquarters, Retter was playing with other boys in the street. The accident, which occurred at 7:45 last night, was witnessed by R. H. Balton, a sailor, and Carlton Conrad, of Huntington Beach. It was said that the injured lad ran in front of Hulen's car. The boy was taken to his home.

Blowout Causes Crash

Mrs. Sadie Wilson, Negro caterer, received a fractured leg and cuts about the arms in an accident Saturday night near Whittier, while Mrs. Wilson was on her way to Los Angeles. The crash occurred when a tire blew out on the car in which she was a passenger, throwing it into a passing car. Mrs. Wilson was transferred to the Santa Ana Valley hospital yesterday from the Memorial hospital, in Whittier, where she was taken following the collision.

Two other accidents, one involving three cars, took place in Santa Ana over the week end, but the occupants of the cars were reported to have escaped unscathed. Cars driven by Jack Schultiz, 1637 West Fourth street; C. M. Corning, 612 North Artesia street, and E. H. Sleeper, Santa Ana city fireman, came together last night at the corner of Bristol and Fourth streets.

Damage was confined to the cars. Cars operated by G. C. Waggener and Joe Thompson were badly damaged when they crashed at the intersection of Eastwood and East Fourth streets Saturday afternoon.

outlined the increase in assessed valuation, recalling that in 1890 it was $10,000,000. In the next 10 years it doubled, and in the following 20 years reached approximately $200,000,000, he stated.

Explains Taxes

In response to a question Jerome stated that financing the water project could be carried on with a rate of 65 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. Property worth $10,000, assessed at 25 per cent of its value, would pay approximately $12.50 the first year on the flood control bonds, with the assessments decreasing thereafter, he explained. The average home property valued at about $5000 would be assessed at about $6.25 the first year, with the amounts decreasing thereafter, Jerome said. He pointed out that the levy would be an assessment for benefits received rather than a tax. All property including schools and churches, would be liable for assessment, Jerome stated.

The cost of carrying out the survey on which the program was based amounted to about $110,000.

Lotus Loudon, president of the associated chambers of commerce, spoke briefly, assuring the group of the support and co-operation of the body he represented.

A vote of thanks to the board of supervisors and advisory committee for their work in carrying the program to its present point was extended by the group attending the meeting.

GENERAL ELECTRIC ALL-STEEL REFRIGERATOR

A Story of Success

Less than two years ago the William LeVecke Company became Orange county dealers for the General Electric Refrigerator.

During the few months that have passed since then another chapter has been written in the great story of success which has made Southern California famed throughout the world

The illustration above, showing a shipment of refrigerators arriving at the LeVecke company's warehouse destined for Orange county homes, is evidence of the success of the General Electric Refrigerator and the William LeVecke Company.

But more than this—it is symbolical of the success of Orange county homes. These great truckloads of beautiful white porcelain refrigerators, which contribute so much to better living, are only a very small fraction of the number already serving hundreds of Orange county families.

It is truly a God-blessed land where people may enjoy the better things of life, may ease labor with tireless energy of electricity, may save time by utilizing scientific achievements, may promote physical well-being through modern safeguards, may increase the joy of family life through such a servant as the General Electric Refrigerator.

The William LeVecke Company is proud of the part it has played—proud of the fact that not one of the hundreds of Orange county users of the General Electric Refrigerator has ever paid a penny for service, proud of the fact that it is ranked as one of the outstanding successful General Electric Refrigerator dealers in the United States.

If you do not already own one, may we show you what the General Electric Refrigerator means to your home and family? See it. Learn what it will do—how simple it is to own. Make this summer the happiest, healthiest, most care-free of all. And the General Electric Refrigerator will continue to serve you throughout all the years to come.

Raiding Deputies Nab Alamitos Man On Liquor Charge

A squad of deputies from the office of Sheriff Sam Jernigan swooped down on the home of D. Ramirez, 62, laborer, of Los Alamitos, shortly after midnight, Saturday, and found him operating a still, according to Chief Criminal Deputy Howard, who said this morning that only about half a gallon of liquor had been run off when they arrived.

The raiding party, composed of Deputies Steward, Humiston, Jernigan, Boyd and Howard, confiscated a barrel of mash and the still, of about 10 gallons capacity, Howard said.

Ramirez was arraigned before Justice Morrison this morning on a charge of owning and operating a still. The examination was set for 9 a. m., tomorrow, and bail was fixed at $3000, which the prisoner failed to provide.

ONLY 20 DIPHTHERIA CASES REPORTED SO FAR IN 1929; 128 IN SAME PERIOD, 1928

An excellent start toward a strikingly low diphtheria rate in Orange county for 1929 had been made today, according to the report of County Health Officer Dr. K. H. Sutherland for the month of April. With only two cases reported during April, making the total for the year 20, the present year is far ahead of 1928, in which there were 128 cases reported during the same period, the report said.

"We feel that much of the reduction can be attributed to the widespread immunization program which has been carried out during past months," Dr. Sutherland's report stated. A total of 1622 persons have been immunized since January 1, bringing the total including immunizations in 1928 to 5614. "In view of his total it was not surprising that the case rate is much lower than it was last year," the report said.

Prospects for preventing a local prevalence of epidemic meningitis, a disease which is causing concern in other sections of the country, are bright in Orange county, the report declared, recalling that during April four cases had been reported. Three of these resulted in death and one still is in doubt.

Thirteen cases of scarlet fever, most of them mild, were reported in April. The health department officials made 746 visits in order to control the contagion.

The report outlines work accomplished in physical examination of children about to enter school for the first time. "In addition to 22 preschool clinics, 29 regular child health centers were held with a combined attendance of 677 babies and pre-school children at the 51 clinics held," said the report.

Eighty-eight children were found in definite need of immediate medical attention and were referred to their family physicians for observation. The department has distributed 2925 pamphlets and infant care letters to interested mothers, making the total for the year 4733, according to the report.

GETAWAY MADE BY TWO JAIL TRUSTIES

Joseph A. Holub and Elmer V. Wallace, trustees in the county jail, were missing when prisoners were checked in Saturday night and investigation revealed that the two men had taken leave from the county garage in one of the county cars.

Holub, who is 32, and whose home was in Sunset Beach, was arrested Nov. 7, 1928, on two counts of possessing liquor, and was serving a sentence of 500 days. Wallace, 23, was arrested Dec. 29, 1928, on a forgery charge and was serving a sentence of one year in jail.

The escape is the first ever recorded by jail authorities among the trustees working in the county garage and is thought to have been effected shortly after 7 o'clock, as the men were not seen after that time.

Mission Sunday Is Observed By Lutheran Church

The annual Mission Sunday was observed here yesterday to create new zeal and enthusiasm for mission work in the Trinity Lutheran church. The Rev. A. H. Kuntz, of Alhambra, spoke at the morning service yesterday.

The Rev. Kuntz is the pioneer missionary in the work among the blind. This branch of mission was first begun three years ago and is conducted by the medium of the Braille system, which is the universal form of writing for all English reading people among the blind.

The work of the Rev. Kuntz extends to all states of the Union except Nevada, to Canada, England, Germany, the Philippines, India, Australia, China, Italy, and Palestine. Rev. Kuntz has edited in Braille Luther's Catechism and Stories from the Bible, and he also edits a monthly magazine for the blind which is printed in Los Angeles. The work has been signally blessed. The lecture was highly instructive and inspiring.

In the afternoon the Rev. R. Kuehnert of Los Angeles spoke on the theme of the "Ascended Lord," sending His Christians out into the whole world to spread His kingdom among all people and of the assurance of the Lord that our work in the mission field shall not remain without His blessing.

"JOKE" PROVES REAL THING AS THIEVES ESCAPE

R. F. Dodd, 1034 West Highland avenue, lost approximately $25 Friday night in a holdup which he at first thought was a joke.

Dodd, who operates a grocery at the Highland avenue address, was locking up for the night and had just stepped out the back door and was occupied with the lock when he felt someone poking him at each side. A voice commanded, "Stick them up."

The grocer stated to police that he thought boys of the neighborhood were playing a joke on him and continued his work at the door, paying no attention to the figures at either side or to their command.

Suddenly the figures darted down the side of the store to the street. Then Dodd began to wonder if it wasn't the real thing and felt for the money which he carried away from the store every night in a sack in his side coat pocket. It was gone. And Dodd realized that he had been through the real thing.

The robbers, after running to the street in front of the store, continued on down Highland to Shelton and turned south. A car that had been standing on Shelton started south just at that time and it is thought that the robbers made their escape in it.

Funeral Of Former Anaheim Youth To Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral services were held at the Central Evangelical church, Torrance, yesterday at 3 o'clock. Interment was in the Hollywood mausoleum.

The youth was a junior in the Torrance high school and the son of the Rev. and Mrs. G. G. Schmid, formerly of the Anaheim Evangelical church.

The boy is survived by his parents and a brother, Lowell Schmid, who was at one time associated with the William Leveck company in this city.

PLACENTIA SCHOOL MEASURE IS PASSED

Assembly bill 457, introduced by Assemblyman Edward Craig, of Brea, has been passed by the lower house of the state legislature, according to information from Sacramento.

The bill would make it possible for the Placentia section to separate from the Fullerton union high school district of its own. It has passed the senate.

INSPECTION IN FRUIT FLY WAR TOPIC OF TALK

That every article brought to California, with the exception of hand baggage, is being inspected rigidly before admission to California, was declared by D. W. Tubbs, director of the Orange county insectary near Anaheim, in a talk before the directors of the Orange County Farm bureau at the farm advisor's offices, 606 North Main street. This inspection, Tubbs pointed out, is maintained in order to prevent the arrival here of the Mediterranean fruit fly, citrus pest which has infested the southern state.

The directors heard reports from Orange county delegates to the travelling conference of the state farm bureau federation, which ended its tour in Orange county on Wednesday. Delegates were Joe Ritter, Cypress; Dr. S. S. Twombly, Anaheim; J. A. Smiley, Santa Ana; and Jack Crill, Garden Grove, in addition to Assistant Farm Advisor E. E. Eastman, representing the extension service here.

Norman M. Blaney, executive secretary of the Farm bureau, was authorized to attend the western states regional conference of the American Farm Bureau federation in July. He also was instructed to write letters expressing the appreciation of the directors for the assistance of all organizations and individuals who helped to make the travelling conference tour here a success.

Admission to the breakfast will be by ticket, and tickets may be purchased from members of the breakfast club, according to George Moyd. No charge will be made for admission to the rodeo, which will be held after the breakfast.

A program of the best Spanish entertainment that can be obtained has been secured through the efforts of the entertainment committee, headed by Bruce Switzer, who is assisted by Gene Kahan and Guy Gilbert. Walnut Sessions Slated In County Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg announced today that a series of field demonstrations would be held this week at which there would be a discussion of the moisture needs of walnut trees on various types of soil under present conditions.

The first meeting will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the Clyde Morris grove on Seventeenth near Grand avenue, two miles east of Santa Ana. A similar demonstration will be given at the Leonard Siewert grove at Katella road and Nursery avenue at 2 p.m. on Tuesday. On Wednesday at 10 a.m. there will be a demonstration at the F. K. Kirker ranch on Orangehorpe avenue, one-quarter of a mile east of Raymond or East street. The meetings will be conducted by W. B. Hooper, walnut specialist of the extension service, and by Wahlberg.

Every Day Should Be Mothers' Day, Declares Rector

"Every day should be Mother's day, for we can never repay her for what she has done for us," declared Rev. W. J. Hatter, rector of the Church of the Messiah, in his sermon of yesterday morning, his topic being "Wives and Mothers." Taking the text from Kings, "Is it well with thee? Is it well with thy husband? Is it well with thy child?" the speaker related the threefold duty of a wife and mother, her duty to herself, to her husband, to her child.

"No one can ever repay Mother for all she has done for them. To all of us our mother is the most wonderful woman in the world. The home is her kingdom and in it she is queen. The husband binds the home together, the wife and mother weaves the story of life. Into this cover she weaves love, tenderness, gentleness, patience, perseverance, prayers. "No one can measure the influence of wife and mother."

ENGRAVER BUYS HALF INTEREST IN S. A. PLANT

Returning to Santa Ana after an absence of nearly four years, M. E. Johnson has purchased a half interest in the Santa Ana Engraving company and beginning Monday will be in active charge of the business.

After leaving Santa Ana, Johnson went to Los Angeles, where he was employed in the engraving business for some time. Later he went to the southern states. Johnson has been in the engraving business for the past 14 years. He declared today that the equipment in the local plant was on a par with that in any plant he had visited in his travels.

STUDIO SITE PURCHASED BY MRS. ROCKWELL

Declaring that all her associations from both business and social standpoints had convinced her that Santa Ana was her choice as a residence city, Mrs. Mabel Rockwell of the Mabel Rockwell School of Dancing, 117½ East Fourth street, today disclosed the fact that she has just completed a deal whereby she acquired not only the property at 2830 North Main street where she resides, but also a studio site at 710 South Main street.

The transaction by which she secured the business site on South Main street was conducted through Berry and McKee, realtors. It is Mrs. Rockwell's intention to build a studio there when her present lease expires. The lot has a frontage on Main street of 100 feet and is considered a very desirable location.

The residence property is equally desirable, and was secured through an exchange for property at Redondo Beach. Mrs. Rockwell, who has identified herself with various civic and social organizations in Santa Ana, including the Business and Professional Women's club, today stated that she was influenced in her decision to locate here permanently, by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce. "It is truly a marvelous organization and has been of the greatest assistance to me in my business," she declared.

COSTA MESA GRASS FIRE EXTINGUISHED

COSTA MESA, May 13.—The Costa Mesa fire department was called to West Hamilton street Saturday night to assist in controlling a grass fire. Traffic Officer Frank Vaughn turned in the alarm and in five minutes time the fire fighters were on the street.

The fire was practically under control when they arrived but for a time it looked as if buildings on the B. A. Ewell and J. Hoyer places would catch fire as there was a high wind.

CAPISTRANO BEACH MANAGERS HOSTS

Waller-Smith company, managers of Capistrano Beach, was host to its selling organization at a banquet held recently, marking the beginning of the summer selling campaign for the beach city. More than 300 members of the sales staff with their families were present. James E. Appleby, general sales director of the organization, as toastmaster, introduced Frank Hogan, representing the Doehny interests, who in an address said:

"Southern California is on the threshold of a prodigious absorption of new population, an intense commercial development, and a significant industrial expansion, with the attendant aggressive building of homes, apartments, of fice buildings, retail establishments and industrial units. "The potentialities inherent in Southern California are colossal and responsive to growth in a nation. Natural resources country stability and wealth reflects the strong structure which the southwest is coming to have."

OFFICERS CLUB IS GREETED IN ORACLE'S HOME

Members of the Officers' club of the Royal Neighbors of America held one of their enjoyable monthly meetings Wednesday night when they were entertained in the home of their oracle, Mrs. Charles Tibbets, 2071 North Main street.

Business matters were touched upon briefly after which the social committee, Mesdames Tibbets, Dunlap and Sweet, introduced Mrs. Luella Stewart as honor guest of the evening, because she is leaving at an early date for an extended trip through the middle west. Each one present was asked to write the account of some amusing experience befalling her on a journey, and then fold the paper and write a certain date on the outside. These letters were then presented Mrs. Stewart with instructions to open each on the date specified on its cover. The honoree will leave Santa Ana on Wednesday, May 22, for her journey.

Hearts formed the evening diversion and attractive prizes were won by Mrs. Bess Simmons and Mrs. Marianna Johnson, a guest of the club. Card tables were made attractive with gay May gardens of the hostess, and refreshments were served.

The Officers' club will hold its next meeting with the receiver, Mrs. Chester Scott, 611 East Walnut street, on June 5. Mrs. Stovall and Mrs. Crawford will join Mrs. Scott in entertaining.

CALUMPIT TEAM TO COMPETE IN DISTRICT DRILL

Leaving early Saturday morning for Sacramento, delegates from Calumpit camp and auxiliary U. S. W. V. together with members of the auxiliary degree team, will attend the district convention that started in that city Sunday morning and continue to and including Wednesday.

Mrs. Howard Wassum, head of the auxiliary, and Mrs. May Glaze, captain of the degree team, are hoping to win the drill contest and return to Santa Ana next week in the same triumphant spirit in which they returned last year from San Diego, bearing the handsome silver cup awarded in the contest. All members have worked untiringly in anticipation of the event.

The team's personnel includes Mrs. Glaze, captain, Mrs. Bess Moberley, color bearer, Mrs. Jean Tantlinger, Mrs. Frances Mouton, Mrs. Estelle Dresser, Mrs. Myrtle Waffle, Mrs. Bertha Dixon, Mrs. Emma K. Wassum, Mrs. Lottie Elmer, Mrs. Ruth Hess, Mrs. Sadie Carmack, Mrs. Lillian Hubbard, Mrs. Maud Brown, Mrs. Mabel Sans, Mrs. Gertrude Rowe, Mrs. Beulah Deaver, Mrs. Matilda Moesser and Miss Melba Elmer.

Frank P. Rowe, James Nourse, W. R. DuBois, W. W. Tantlinger and Howard Wassum will represent the camp as delegates.

MAY PARTY OF CHARM GIVEN BY REBEKAHS

A successful evening crowned the efforts of Mrs. Edward Cochems on Wednesday, when Torosa Rebekah lodge members enjoyed her carefully planned May party in connection with their stated meeting night in Odd Fellows hall.

The May basket idea was first suggested by Mrs. Fannie Lacy and Mrs. Cochems elaborated on the plan, asking the women of the lodge to come attired in print dresses, and each bring a May basket filled with lunch for two. The effect was quite charming, and the parade in which all the women took part that judges might decide upon the prize-winning frocks, was colorful and attractive.

John Crawford, Oscar Perkins and Mrs. Wiley acted as judges and gave first place to Miss Evelyn Chandler, Santa Ana high school girl whose smart little frock was of her own workmanship. Second prize was won by Mrs. George Stovall and third by Miss Mina Hartlin. In the decorated May basket contest, the judges awarded first prize to Mrs. Gilbert Harrell, second to Miss Gertrude Stebbins, third to Mrs. Summers, fourth to Miss Bates and fifth to Mrs. Maude Lentz.

The entertainment program opened with an enjoyable feature, a song group by a male quartet made up of two fathers and two sons. The singers, who were unaccompanied, were F. L. Harrell, first tenor; Gilbert Harrell, second tenor; Edward Elmer, first bass, and E. H. Elmer, second bass. A dance revue completed the program, and won many compliments for Miss Gertrude Stebbins, whose pupils were presented.

This feature opened with an Old Fashioned Girl dance by Teresa Hammond, Genevieve and Billy Hammond gave a clever adagio number; Betty Ellen Mitchell danced the Toy Ballet; Teresa and Genevieve Hammond danced a Japanese dance, and Carol Lee did a cunning clown number.

The pretty May pole dance for which Mrs. Cochems arranged the May pole and its fluttering ribbons, was given by little Genevieve Glover, Rowena Vosburgh, Virginia Lee, Ruth Marie Summers, Beverly Weindorf, and Norma Chamberlain, all wearing little frocks to match the ribbons. Each of the tots in the revue was presented with a May basket of sweet peas while corsage bouquets were distributed as a tribute to Mother's day.

Partners were chosen by numbered verses, and way was led to the banquet room where the couples thus matched, enjoyed the contents of the prize May baskets. Mrs. Cochems as general chairman, had the aid of Mesdames Blanche Chandler, Maude Lentz, Summers, Woolley and Bates.

COMMANDER OF LEGION COMES TO LOCAL POST

Frank Belgrano, state commander of the American Legion, is to be honored guest of Santa Ana Post 131, American Legion, on Thursday night, June 15, according to announcement made Thursday by Franklin G. West, commander. The Legionnaires will stage a dinner in honor of their chief, with Mrs. Hill in charge.

This visit while important, is only one of the many interesting events of the near future anticipated by the Post. On the Sunday preceding Memorial day, the members will attend a special Memorial day service in Spurgeon M. E. church South, with the Rev. Moffett Rhodes presenting the sermon.

With June will come the annual Los Angeles county pilgrimage to Catalina Island, on the dates of June 15 and 16, and many Santa Ana members are planning to join the Los Angeles Legionnaires. Announcement of the date was made by Charles Van Wyk who stated that tickets might be secured from the Westgate Steamship company. With the coming of summer, the local post will discontinue the semi-monthly sessions and meet but once a month.

OLD FRIENDS CHANGE MINDS IN HOME DEAL

ANAHEIM, May 13.—It was just a little case of home-sickness and a mutual desire between two old friends to enjoy once more the comforts they themselves designed that brought about a peculiar real estate transaction in Anaheim—the first of its kind on record.

Justus Schneider planned and built an attractive two-story house in 1919. He used to sit and count the automobiles as they passed by and comment on the new makes. The grounds were attractive and he felt that the place befitted a man of his position and leisure.

But Henry Siemers, his friend, had come here years before and planted an orange grove beyond the city limits. Its verdure attracted Schneider and, somehow, he felt a strong desire to see things grow and flourish under his care.

Siemers, in turn, desired a home in town, where there were no weeds to hoe and no pruning to do and where he could just sit and let time roll by.

Schneider's house on the boulevard seemed to fit right in with Siemers' ideas of luxury and ease, so the two traded and were happy for a time.

That was two years ago. But they grew tired of their unaccustomed surroundings. Siemers longed to be putting about his garden again and to enjoy the cool green reaches of his citrus grove. Schneider began to dream of sitting comfortably on his porch and watching the automobiles roll by.

So a few days ago the two old friends got together.

"Maybe we could trade back again," Siemers offered.

"Well, yes; maybe we might," Schneider murmured in concurrence.

Papers on file with a local banking house revealed the first double trade, a reversal of original transactions and both exchanges on an even basis, that have been recorded in the history of Anaheim.

APARTMENT IS UNDER WAY IN BEACH SECTION

LAGUNA BEACH, May 13.—Ropp and Mackey have started work on a garage and apartment in Arch Beach on property near that of Frank Miller for Mrs. W. T. Jefferson.

Plans for a somewhat pretentious residence are being drawn and the builders will start work on this house soon. It is to be on the ocean front.

Not far from it is the Charles Friak place, nearing completion. This is one of the unusual houses being erected along the beach. Plans for it were drawn for Aubrey St. Clair.

Further along the beach, in the Coast Royal section, is the home of Mrs. Guy Adams, formerly of Covina, which is just completed. This is likewise on the ocean front and has been given the appearance of age. It was designed by Thomas Harper, with decorations by A. Dupont.

Work has been started by Ropp and Mackey on a residence and garage for Mrs. H. R. Macheth of Coast boulevard near Diamond street.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"I was just completely run-down. I had tired, heavy, sluggish feelings and I could not eat. I was losing weight. I read so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what a good medicine it is, that I started taking it. I have taken eight bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and about the same in tablet form. This is one medicine a woman should have in the house all the time. I am improving every day and I am sure am able to eat. TWO INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Two traffic accidents occurring late Friday necessitated the services of physicians for two of the victims and call for a repair crew from the city water department.

U. S. Colby, of 1019 West Third street, received severe bruises, slight cuts and had his left wrist fractured when the car he was driving was involved in a collision with a sedan driven by Clarence Newkirk, 22 of route one, Garden Grove, at the intersection of West Seventeenth and Flower streets at 7:45 last night.

Colby was taken to his home in the police car following the accident by Sergeant Elliott. A city fire hydrant was broken off, causing a veritable flood at the corner of Sixth and Olive streets when one of two cars that came together at the intersection crashed into the hydrant. The cars were driven by Ivan Jacobs, of Yorba Linda, and Mrs. Irvin Kirkmeyer, of 1064 West Second street. Mrs. Kirkmeyer fainted following the crash and was attended by a doctor, who stated this morning that her condition was not serious.

CALANTHE MEMBERS GIVE PICNIC AFFAIR

Every member of the Calanthe club was present at the enjoyable covered dish dinner held early last week with Mrs. E. E. Frisby, 1011 Kilson Drive.

Charming flowers adorned the home and added to the attractiveness of the tables where the clubwomen assembled for the enjoyment of the variety of home-cooked dishes. In the afternoon hours attention was given to completing the bedspreads which the club is donating to the Orange County Health camp.

Plans were made for the June meeting of the organization when today will be spent at the health cabin, each member taking a contribution to the picnic dinner. The bedspreads will be presented on that day.

Snowshoe Al:—The Cleaners Arrive, and Alaska's Cold Comedian Boils Over in the First of a Series of Hot Yarns

YESTERDAY morning somebody played a violent tune on our front doorbell thereby tossing huge quantities of agitation into my usually calm existence. You see, it don't take us authors an' writers very long to realize that there is two outstanding varieties of doorbell music: the soft, polite "Ping!" of the salve-mouthed hombre who wishes to sell something, an' the violent, persistent "R-r-r-inggg!" of Mr. John Hippopotamus Brassknuckle, hard collector of easy payments for the Bandit Furniture Company.

Well, folks, I claim to be a very courageous gink—you should read some of the fearless anonymous letters I write—so I galloped bravely over to the speaking tube an' squawks: "Hello! Hoozit?"

"We are the apartment cleaners," barks some person with a remarkably gruff voice, "an' we wanta look at your igloo."

"Drag your carcasses upstairs," says I, cheerfully, an' they did so. There was three of 'em, an' they all wore overalls, jumpers an' dumb expressions.

Mr. Gruff Voice was tall an' thin, an' carried several pails, a huge can of varnish, a few calcimine brushes an' three rolls of wallpaper. One of his companions had a chassis like a gorilla, an' staggered beneath the weight of two stepladders an' a large plank.

As for the third guy, he carried nothing—an' it was entirely too heavy for him. He was so lubricated with unlawful beverages that every time he took a step he sounded like somebody taking a bath, an' he sure looked like the last 15 minutes of Ten Nights in a Barroom.

"WAIT a moment, gents, wait a moment!" yelps me. "I didn't know you wanted to start work at once. My stable mate has gone visiting an' won't be home before 10 o'clock this evening. You birds better take this matter up with her."

"Aw, she don't have to be here," snorts Gruff Voice. "She knows we're coming this morning—she talked to the landlord a couple days ago. Bring them ladders inside, Louie! Get in here, Charlie—here's the door—quit trying to walk through that wall!"

This Louie person hauled his paraphernalia into the kitchen an' deposited same on the floor in a nice, quiet manner which made the entire building sink three inches. This Charlie creature steered himself into the living room an' sank onto our davenport with all the grace of a piano falling 12 floors. Then he threw his heels up against the wall an' heaved an odoriferous sigh which caused our canary to flop head first off his perch.

I breezed into the kitchen an' asked Mr. Gruff Voice how long it would take to brighten up our wigwam.

"Well, now, let me think," says he, scratching his Dan-druff Pasture an' gazing thoughtfully at the ceiling. "You've got three rooms. Um-hmm. We're supposed to paper the bedroom, bathe the canvas walls in the kitchen, calcimine two ceilings, 'dry clean' the living room an' varnish the floors. Oh, we'll be through by five o'clock today. Here, what kind of wallpaper do you want in the bedroom? I brought three different styles along an' you can have your pick."

"I ain't wild about this job," howls me to Gruff Voice. "If I make a bum selection my wife will find some excuse

"Ah, here's something unique," says Mr. Gruff Voice. . . . "Them things is Indian tents, and here's a captive being burned at the stake. . . . What do YOU think?"

The cleaning of our igloo began. . . . Mr. Gruff Voice slinging calcimine in the general direction of the ceiling.

to bury me. Let's go into conference before any of us makes a false move."

"If you wish, I'll select it for you," volunteers him, unrolling his samples. "Ah, here's something unique—take a squint at it. The design is evidently an Indian village. Them things are Indian tents, an' here's a warrior standing beneath a tree—he's shooting at a white guy—see?—an' on this side of the wigwams is a captive being burned at the stake—see?—an' off here in the distance is a herd of buffalo. Now, that's what I call neat! What do you think?"

"I think you ought to have it set to music an' call it 'Hiawatha's Revenge,' sneers I. "It would make a swell lullaby for sick babies. I'd just love to go to sleep surrounded by all that nightmare food. Slip me a look at the other two samples."

Much to his disgust I selected a flower design but, nevertheless, he trotted downstairs to get a stock of it. Mr. Louie now waltzed past me carrying two floor lamps an' several pillows, which he dragged through the front door. He returned, grabbed a couple of chairs an' disappeared once more. I flagged him when he blew in again.

"Pardon me for interrupting your act," snorts me, "but how do you classify it? It looks like a Thurston stunt—everything vanishes."

"I'm taking your furniture out into the hall so we can varnish the floors," he explains. "You better pull your bed apart right away. Oh Charlie! Get off that davenport an' get busy!"

Charlie rose wearily to his feet, yawned, picked up our radio an' lurched towards the door. I galloped into the bedroom, disassembled the sleep machine an' began moving it into the hall. That hall soon reminded me of one o' these newspaper photos which has a caption reading, "X shows spot where furniture factory was located before bomb was tossed."

Books, rugs, lamps an' other small objects adorned every step leading from our door up to the third floor, while the larger pieces such as the davenport, table, bed an' chairs succeeded in blocking traffic on the landing.

The cleaning of our igloo then began. Mr. Gruff Voice hauled the ladders an' the large plank into the bedroom an' constructed a platform which looked about as safe as a hair-trigger shotgun. He stood on this an' slammed calcimine in the general direction of the ceiling while whistling an appropriate accompaniment entitled, "Oh, how I miss you!"

Mr. Louie balanced himself on top of our telephone desk an' administered chiropractic treatment to the living room walls with a huge gob of paper cleaner. Mr. Charlie, armed with a pail of water an' a monstrous sponge, started scrubbing the canvas walls in the kitchen. What did I do? I watched them an' prayed that everything would turn out all right.

Noon came, so Louie grabbed his coat an' floated through the back door. He returned presently, carrying three paper bundles of lunch an' some pint bottles of cow syrup. The trio of calcimine acrobats then adjourned to the living room, where they parked themselves on the floor an' proceeded to wrap their stomachs around the queerest assortment of groceries I've ever smelled.

THIS Charlie person sank his molars into things which would have caused a careless nannygoat to hesitate. He seemed to have a flock of small, white onions in his possession, an' he tossed these past his tonsils much in the manner of a small boy guzzling raisins. I dived into my hat an' sneaked outside to grab some fresh air.

At four o'clock I returned an' found Mr. Louie scrubbing the living room floor, Mr. Gruff Voice smoking in the kitchen an' Mr. Charlie hanging wallpaper in the bedroom. That bedroom! Yeeoww! All I could see was Indian wigwams, captives being broiled at the stake, herds of buffalo an' redskin sharpshooters using pale-faces for targets. I broke loose with a squeal which caused Mr. Charlie to drop his brush. It also caused Gruff Voice to hurry in from the kitchen an' do some explaining.

"We didn't have enough of that other paper in stock," says he, "an' you wasn't around at the time, so I had to use my own judgment. Aw, cheer up—your wife will probably go crazy over this design."

"You gargled a true statement," moans me. "I seem to sense the approach of embalming fluid."

C-R-A-S-H! The noise came from the front hall. All four of us rushed out an' beheld a very amusing spectacle. A corpulent bozo with a red face was lying head downward on the steps, an' his hat, cane an' brief case were scattered all over the scenery. On his left leg hung a picture frame, some wrecked glass an' part of Mr. George Washington's physiognomy.

"I'm gonna sue somebody!" howls this baby. "I'm a mass o' bruises! The idea of cluttering up halls with such stuff! Who in—"

"I've a notion to have you pinched," says me, very severely. "Why, what do you think would happen if I told a judge that you kicked Mr. Washington in the face? They'd deport you! They'd put you on ice! They'd separate you from your right to vote! Three cheers for the red, white an' blue! You unpatriotic bum!"

The corpulent gentleman turned deathly pale an' assured me that it was entirely an accident. He was a loyal American citizen, he said, an' had lost a son-in-law an' three large contracts during the war.

I forgave him, especially after Louie told me he was the landlord, so he picked up his belongings an' limped slowly away.

WELL, folks, at exactly five o'clock me an' the Dumb Three were standing in the hall again an' they were instructing me to sit out there with my furniture until the varnish was dry.

"How long will it take?" asks me.

"Eight hours," yawns Gruff Voice, starting downstairs. "Good-by, Mr. Kennedy!"

"My name ain't Kennedy," says I. "The Kennedys live in the apartment above ours." But I guess he didn't hear me.

At 10 o'clock my wife came home.

"They cleaned up the wrong apartment," says I. "Who, the police?" asks her, with a gasp.

"This place smells like varnish," says the doctor.

"Yes," says my dear wife, "the cleaners were here today."

"Rather odd wallpaper," he grunts, looking around.

"Isn't it though?" she agrees.

"Well," says he to her, "he ain't damaged much—he'll be all right in the morning. If you wish, I'll help you carry the bed in from the hall an' we'll put him—"

"Never mind," says her. "Just let him lay there in the corner among the rest of the Indians."

ACE HUDKINS WILL BOX HERE NEXT MONTH

Paul, Reboin Give Saints Third In State Classic

S. A. BOYS RUN FIRST, SECOND IN LOW STICKS

Superlative competitive performances by Coach "Tex" Oliver's great "junior twins," Norman Paul and Al Reboin, gave Santa Ana high school third place in the California State Interscholastic track and field meet in the Los Angeles Coliseum Saturday.

Paul and Reboin outdistanced their field, ran one-two in the 220 yard hurdles. Paul took second in the broad jump, losing first by one-fourth of an inch. Their total was 11. San Diego, champion of the south, won the meet handily with 22-3/4 points. Hollywood was second with 16 1/2. Jefferson, Los Angeles and Fresno were closest back of the third-place Santa Anans.

When Paul, who has been hurdling little more than a month, broke the tape in the long obstacle race in 24 seconds flat he shattered his own Santa Ana record of 24-2/5 seconds and came within a fifth of a second of Jimmy Payne's state record of 23-8/10 seconds. Paul was approximately five feet ahead of Reboin and Reboin in turn was safely in front of Shetahian, a Northerner, who spilled the dope by coming in third.

With another year of competition before him, Paul is considered almost a certainty to equal or smash Payne's record and it is not unlikely that he will improve enough in the broad jump to do some record-breaking there also. Ruby, of Hollywood, was a surprise winner in the jump Saturday. He went 22 feet, 7/4 inches while Paul hopped 22 feet, 7 inches, the best mark he has ever made in competition and only three-quarters of an inch behind Ernie Velarde's school record. Twenty-one Southern and 19 Northern schools were represented in this meet in which Santa Ana took third. Three C.I.F. records were by the boards and two others were equaled.

FULLERTON TO JOIN FOOTHILL LOOP IN FALL

A readjustment of all high school athletic leagues operating under the auspices of the Southern division of the California Interscholastic federation will result in at least two important changes of interest to Orange county, it was learned definitely here today.

These are: (1) Fullerton, long the czar of the Orange league, will join the recently organized Foothill league next September, and (2) Woodrow Wilson high school of Long Beach will become a member of the Coast Preparatory league to play Santa Ana and others affiliated with that circuit.

J. W. Means, principal of Tustin high school and this section's representative to the C. I. F., verified this and intimated that other new assignments were possible. Downey, which has been with the Orange league for the last year, will leave that body in the fall and become affiliated with the San Gabriel Valley league. Brea-Olinda has been offered a membership in the same group but probably will elect to remain with the Orange league.

Woodrow Wilson's arrival into the Coast Preparatory league will fill one of the places vacated by the resignation of South Pasadena and Whittier which next year will go to the Foothill league along with Fullerton, Burbank, John Muir Tech of Pasadena, Monrovia and Herbert Hoover school of Glendale. The other may be left open or may be filled by Covina, depending on the decision of Covina officials. Woodrow Wilson has been with the Bay league for the last two seasons. It will be the second Long Beach institution in the Coast league.

Fullerton was admitted to the Foothill league when it was shown that the Orange county school would have the next to smallest enrollment of any school in the loop. Previously, Burbank and one or two other schools had complained that Fullerton was too large and would be too strong for the other schools, just as it has been too good for the smaller teams in the Orange league.

Principal Means has been appointed to a committee of three to work out a plan of determining Southern California championships in football, baseball and basketball and report it back to the C. I. F. Just what method this will be Means was unable to state today but it may be a modified revision of the Dickinson plan used to determine national champions.

This plan already has been outlined to the C. I. F. but as reported was found impracticable and certain changes will be necessary.

F. E. Farnsworth and son, Ed, won the championship of the second flight by defeating L. M. Forney and son, Alfred.

B. V. Curry, with 80-10-70, was first in Class A medal play yesterday by the narrow margin of one stroke. R. E. Graves, 85-13-71, was second and A. E. Watson, 84-12-72, third. Walter Vandermaast was best of the Class B group with 80-18-62. W. H. Spurgeon, 85-18-69 was second and L. M. Forney, 86-18-70, and H. T. Richards, 86-16-70, tied for third.

Both three down, L. D. Coffing and W. D. Young tied for first in Saturday's Class A match play. B. V. Curry, E. C. D. Pettitt, Ed Holmes and R. E. Graves, all four down, were next in line.

Franklin G. West, A. G. Flagg, L. M. Forney and S. R. Bowen, all two down, tied for first in Class B.

'MIRACLE MAN' OF OLD BRAVES ANSWERS CALL

MACON, Ga., May 13.—George Stallings, "the miracle man" of the Boston Braves in 1914, and prominent figure in the organized baseball world, died at his plantation near Haddock, Ga., today after a long illness.

Stallings had been ill for more than a year with heart disease.

His wife and two of his three sons were at the bedside when he was found dead at 5 a. m.

Stallings was first taken ill in Canada last summer while active as owner of the Montreal club of the International league. Since then he had taken treatment in several Georgia hospitals. Once last fall, his life was despaired of for several days and he was reported dying.

The Stallings plantation, in Jones county, is 30 miles from here and in a thinly settled rural district.

MINERAL WELLS, Tex., May 13.—Having completed 2000 miles of their 3400 trek across the country, the Pyle Union derbys headed west to Albany under threatening weather today. Guisto Umek, Trieste, Italy, was first into Mineral Wells yesterday, running the 53 miles from Fort Worth in 7:01:20.

EXPECT RECORD NUMBER TO GO POSTWARD IN KENTUCKY RACE SATURDAY; DR. FREELAND OUT

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, May 13.—One of the largest fields in history is expected to go to the barrier for the fifty-fifty running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday. Out of the 159 nominations about 23 are considered probable starters. If this number starts it will break the record made last year when 22 started with Reigh Count the winner.

Between 75,000 and 100,000 persons are expected to pack the racing strip for the American turf classic.

Although many thousands of dollars have poured into the winter books of Blue Larkspur and made the Col. E. R. Bradley colt an outstanding favorite, many horse men believe this year's race will be an open affair and that the winner may come from among the outsiders.

In the event of bad weather and a heavy track not more than between 13 and 14 are expected to start. H. P. Gardner's game Man O' War gelding, Clyde Van Dusen and the Nevada stock farm's Voltair.

The east must look to Harry Payne Whitney's Beacon Hill, the Warm stable's The Nut, Jack Cohen's Bizarre, and the Ranocosa stable's Leucite to hold its colors. None of this group is a certain starter, except possibly Beacon Hill which ran a very mediocre race in the Preakness.

JOHNNY DOEG WINS
LOS ANGELES, May 13.—John Doeg, Stanford university student and former junior national champion, won the tennis championship of Southern California here Sunday by downing Ben Gorchakoff of Occidental college. The score was 7-0, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

WALLY FRAZIER LIKELY TO GO AGAINST 'CAT'

By RINGSIDER
"Wildcat" Ace Hudkins, famous fighting Nebraska boy, conqueror of Armand Emanuel, Rene DeVos and every other leading contender in three divisions, will box in Santa Ana early next month.

Henry T. Foust, president, and Kid Mexico, matchmaker, of the Orange County Athletic club, were authorities for this statement today.

Hudkins, a close personal friend of Mexico's, has verbally agreed to a six-round match with any opponent the promoters may select and Hudkins never yet has been known to run out of a match, big or small.

Depending on his showing in his bout here Wednesday night with Frank Williams, Wally Frazier, sensational Hawthorne light heavyweight, probably will be the "Wildcat's" foe. If Frazier wins or makes a representative demonstration of ability he will get this shot, the biggest pugilistic chance that ever came into his life. If Williams wins he will get the match, it is understood. Hudkins cares not which.

This will be the first time in the history of Orange county fisticuffs that a genuine championship contender ever has fought here. Hud. (Continued on Page 11)

COMPTON WINS FROM DONS IN BASEBALL. 13-5

Three home runs, a barrage of other hits and some 11 or 12 local errors combined to give the Compton junior college baseball team a 13 to 5 decision over the Santa Ana collegians Saturday afternoon on Poly field.

The Tartars turned nearly every bobble into runs and were also helped by sloppy playing for the Dons. Chaptin, Compton second baseman, poked out a homer in the first with three on and Arter, first sacker, further disheartened the Santa Ana boys with two homers, one in the second with one on and another in the sixth. The last one bounced over the fence.

The first Don tally occurred when Dutton homed with Smiley ahead of him. In the eighth, Tanaka, Beatty and Koral all scored. This defeat put the Tartars and Dons in a tie for cellar honors, each team having won one and lost three games with only one more yet to play. Santa Ana meets Fullerton next week.

BILL COOK, SANTA ANA J. C. COACH, MAY GO TO PARK CITY

Coach Bill Cook, Santa Ana junior college head coach, probably will take over the duties as head coach at Huntington Park high school next fall. It was unofficially learned today.

The position at the Bay league school was recently vacated when Verne Landreth resigned to become athletic director at Whittier college. Cook, when interviewed, had nothing to say further than that Huntington Park authorities had not communicated with him. He admitted he would be "interested" in any proposition they might make.

It is understood that the position is a step up from his present job and that competition is keen for the place. Huntington Park is one of the strongest teams in the Bay league in nearly all sports. Cook would coach football and track if he transfers.

At Santa Ana, he has an enviable record to stand on. His Dor grid team was a contender for the conference flag two years ago.

REFUSE GUARANTEE TO PYLE'S FOLLIES

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 13.—C. C. Pyle's Follies troupe which accompanied his transcontinental derby into Fort Worth, left threats of attachment and Pyle's $1500 guarantee from Fort Worth behind when they started for West Texas today.

The $1500 guarantee, made to Pyle by members of the publicity committee of the Association of Commerce, will not be paid.

The money was posted by five members of the committee provided Pyle "carried out certain stipulations," but the troupe did not set here in time for the Saturday matinee show and was 55 minutes late for the 7:30 p. m. performance.

Taste shows, in Chesterfield, in the tobaccos we buy—aromatic leaf of good "body," free from harshness, high in natural sugar, mild, ripe. It shows, too, in the way we blend and "cross-blend" them.

Most of all, it shows in the way men stick to Chesterfields—for that's final proof of taste!

This is not a glimpse of players in a recent tennis match at one of the big clubs in the east. It is, however, a picture of four young ladies at a time, a number of years ago, when they were very important people in the tennis world.

Reading left to right, here are Miss Florence Sutton, Mrs. B. O. Bruce, Mrs. H. Doeg, and Mrs. T. C. Bundy. It doesn't take a tennis expert to recall that the Bundy, Sutton and Doeg names are famous ones in tennis history. And it might be added of Mrs. Bruce that she ranked among the best when this was taken.

The costumes worn when this was taken offer a striking contrast to those Helen Wills, Helen Jacobs, and other tennis stars wear when they appear on the courts these days.

UMPIRE STRUCK BY BOTTLE BADLY HURT

CLEVELAND, May 13.—Emmet T. Ormsby, the American league umpire who was struck on the head by a pop bottle thrown by a fan during Saturday's game between the Cleveland Indians and the Philadelphia Athletics, was reported to be suffering from concussion of the brain today.

Ormsby was helped from the field in a semi-conscious condition after being struck by the bottle. His condition was not considered serious until late Saturday night.

Manager Roger Peckinbaugh of the Indians has drawn a five-day suspension from President E. S. Barnard of the American league on a charge of inciting the demonstration in which Ormsby was injured.

Bowling News

Members of the Hancock Gasoline team were home today from the Pacific Coast Bowling Congress tournament at Fresno richer in experience but little else.

The Santa Ana five-man team, blowing and splitting all over the house, fell a few pins short of 2400 although in singles and doubles events later they made a much better showing.

Ray Heath and Fred Windler shot a nice total of 1122 to go into first place in the open doubles and while it is doubtful if this holds up through the tournament it should net the local pair some place money.

None of the other doubles teams came close to the mark of Heath and Windler. Heath featured the day with a 623 series in his doubles, having one game of 245.

Most of the Santa Ana men were over 500 in singles. E. West leading the contingent with 571. H. M. Seacrest went into his last game with an even 400 but finished with 561. Heath shot 557.

The Hancock players reported the wood falling nicely and the tournament alleys in good condition and predict that other Orange county clubs will do well when they report for their events. They had no excuse for their own comparatively poor showing.

PIPE LINES IN EL TORO AREA STARTED SOON

During the past week a survey of the tract held by the Orange County Development company in the El Toro district has been made. The installation of pipe lines and power lines is scheduled to begin early next week. Road building through the center of the tract is under way at the present time.

With the development of this large tract this district assumes major importance in the Valencia orange industry of this county. Citrus growers are evincing a keen interest in this and other property in this district, having been attracted to this section by the success attained by other citrus growers in the immediate vicinity. It was declared today.

It is the intent of the Orange County Development company to begin planting this tract within the next three weeks, 8500 trees having been purchased for this purpose.

Soil in this district is regarded as exceedingly rich, and with the development of an abundance of water already accomplished, rapid progress may be expected in this district through various citrus development operations now under way.

Rubbish Sale Results In Suit

There are "gold bricks" in rubbish it appeared when Carl H. Moore filed suit against Tom Violette for $900 damages because the latter is alleged to have misrepresented the condition of his garbage collection business at San Clemente in order to induce Moore to buy it for $1800.

Moore stated in the complaint that Violette told him he could reclaim $100 a month from the San Clemente rubbish that he collected. He also is alleged to have stated that residents of the Spanish village would pay him from $185 to $200 a month for collecting their garbage.

According to Moore's complaint even rubbish can have an inflated value and his business venture in the realm of garbage collection was more or less of a flop. He said it netted him not more than $145 monthly. He filed the complaint through John Martell, Santa Ana attorney.

NEW WATER WELL IS SECURED ON PROPERTY NEAR EL TORO; COMPANY LETS PIPE CONTRACT

Proving that the El Toro district is plentifully supplied with water, two good producers have been secured on the 150-acre property of the Orange County Development company, located two miles north of El Toro. A new well has just been completed on the concern's holdings.

The well is flowing 40 miner's inches, the same flow as the one brought in some time ago on the opposite side of the property.

The company has just let a contract to the National Cement Pipe company for irrigation pipes for the tract. Eighty-five hundred Valencia trees have been purchased and will be set out on 100 acres. Later on the remaining 50 acres will be planted to Valencia oranges.

That the district has attracted the attention of experienced citrus experts is seen in the fact that a number of well known growers have purchased land in the district and have developed excellent producers there.

The Orange County Development company's acreage was purchased last fall from the Whiting company. The district is declared frostless and free of desert winds.

The Jerome brothers and the Collar Nursery company have acquired 60 acres adjoining this property and plan extensive developments there.

Several years ago the Las Alisos company acquired 150 acres from the Whiting company and set the property to oranges, water being found in abundance.

Observed 56th Anniversary. Two of the members of the church, Colonel and Mrs. Thomas Hill, were presented with a basket of rich golden and white flowers in honor of their fifty-sixth wedding anniversary, which they were celebrating yesterday. Brethren Pastor Gives Sermon On Mother Influence

"The mother who forsakes ease, comfort, for her child's sake, mingling common sense with Divine guidance, will succeed in her efforts."

Such was the statement made by the Rev. R. W. Harlow, pastor of the First United Brethren church, while delivering his sermon, yesterday, on the subject, "The Influence of Mother in the Home." He took for a text a verse from Exodus, "Take this child away and nurse it for me and I will give thee thy wages."

"Do you suppose Moses' mother wished he had been a girl? No, she was glad to bring into the world a son and train him the best she could for God, the pastor said. "She deemed motherhood life's richest crown. She did not attempt to raise a king of finance, a colonizer, or even a law-giver. She was satisfied just to raise her boy for God and just let God have him. She had time to spare from her other duties, to give her boy the best Christian training of her day."

MISSIONARY OF INDIA SPEAKS TO BRETHREN

The Sunday sermon at the Church of the Brethren, of which the Rev. Roy P. Hylton is pastor, was delivered yesterday by the Rev. J. I. Kaylor, India missionary on furlough. "The Compassion of Jesus" was the sermon subject of the missionary who made the inference that the compassion which Jesus felt and manifested to the multitudes in need of His day, was far reaching enough to include India and all the rest of the world.

"His desire to be helpful to them should spur us on to greater effort in behalf of His kingdom which includes all men," said the missionary.

"Jesus had compassion on the multitude and taught them. They were in an unsheltered condition and needed guidance. The people of India with their curse of caste, child marriage and self-sufficiency are in need of teaching. The service of the missionary is to bring to them the Truth of God which makes men free. Again, in the example of Jesus, there was a ministry to the physical needs. People needed healing for their bodies. And still the missionary must diagnose and prescribe for the common ailments. The compassion of the Father who received the lost son again is the compassion of God in reaching out for His lost children.

"The church at the home base needs to exemplify that same warm and loving compassion for the benighted and needy of the world and go, as the Father did to meet them as they return to the Heavenly Father."

MOTHERS GOD'S PARTNERS SAYS REV. BUCHANAN

"It has been truly said that, although woman has produced no work of surpassing power, she has written no Iliad, no Hamlet, no Paradise Lost, has designed no church such as St. Peter's, composed no Messiah, carved no Apollo, painted no Last Judgment; although she has invented neither algebra, telescope nor steam engine, she has done something greater and better than all this. It is at the knee, that virtuous and upright men and women have been trained—the most excellent production in the world."

Such was the declaration made by the Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church, in his Sunday sermon on "Mother."

Continuing, the minister said: "If we would find the secret of the greatness and goodness of most men, we must look at their mothers. Mothers are partners with God in the creation of human souls and the development of character. The divinest work of the earth devolves upon the mothers."

"The greatest heroine in the world is mother. No one else makes such sacrifices, or endures anything like the sufferings that she unconsciously endures for her children. Let us crown her today with our kisses, anoint her with our tears, and robe her about with our prayers."

"The ideal mother today is the product of the civilization which culminated in and radiated from the cradle of Bethlehem. Mary was the ideal Christian mother; divine mysteries filled her heart, but she kept all these things and pondered them in her heart. She worked in harmony with her God and they gave the world His Saviour."

"Our homes have made America peerless among nations. Any Encyclopedia of American biography will prove that our most illustrious statesmen, our most eloquent preachers, our merchants and princes and our great benefactors came from the humble home, where the first risings of childhood were the accents of prayer and the first thoughts of the hearts were the thoughts of God. The Anglo-Saxon people will continue to march to the mastery of the world and be the teachers of the truth, the arbiters of the right and the proclaimers of peace, so long as they shall hold woman in the loftiest regard and preserve the purity of the home."

Woman's Greatest Profession Topic In Christ Church

"Woman's Greatest Profession" was the sermon subject of James H. Sewell, evangelist in the Church of Christ, yesterday morning. The evangelist said in part:

"It is a surprising and regrettable thing that so few women recognize home making and motherhood as a profession. It is not only a profession calling for the greatest consecration to duty, but also for the highest type of preparation and intelligence. There are three standards by which a Christian should measure every occupation or profession:

"First: Its opportunities for service. I care not how much may be the opportunities for personal gain, no right thinking person should choose a profession purely on that ground.

"Second: Its opportunities for the development of character. This should be one of the greatest tests of a profession to the Christian. An occupation that stultifies the conscience, or retards the regular development of Christian character, is a poor occupation.

"Third: What are its rewards in a selfish way? This must always be considered for no matter how splendid an occupation may be we are entitled to some reward for our labor. In this test also, motherhood measures up to the highest. The great object of most people's lives is happiness. This can never be secured by a selfish life. It can never be secured without an abundance of love in your life."

'Preach The Word' Church Of Christ Pastor's Subject

J. W. Saunders, evangelist of the Southside Church of Christ, used as the topic for his Sunday sermon, "Preaching the Gospel."

He said in part: "Among the many important duties enjoined upon the Christian minister in the second epistle of Paul to Timothy we find the following: 'Preach the word; be instant in season out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long suffering and doctrine.' Although the Bibles does not furnish us with any specific system of homiletics it does show us how God desires us to preach His Word."

"We are to preach in order to enlighten people, not to entertain them. This was the method of Christ. All true preaching teaches. 'People should be willing to listen to the preaching of the word. It is for their benefit. How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring good tidings.'"

GREAT MOTHER IS PRAISED BY REV. E. W. MATZ

"Back of every great man there is a great mother," declared the Rev. E. W. Matz, pastor of the First Evangelical church. The minister was giving his sermon, entitled "Mothers of Men," for the Mother's day service held at the church yesterday.

Taking his text: "And the name of Amram's wife was Jochebed, the daughter of Levi, and she bare unto Amram, Aaron and Moses and Miriam their sister," the Rev. Mr. Matz continued:

"It was so with Moses, who is considered one of the greatest men in history. Jochebed was a daughter of Levi, the priest. She has a religious heritage and came from a noted family. She was married to Amram the slave, but position and wealth do not determine character nor destiny. Other great men have come from humble environments. Jochebed was the happy mother of three children: Aaron, Moses and Miriam."

"The character of these children reflect the character of their mother. Aaron was eloquent and brilliant, ready to help his younger brother Moses in time of need. He and his sons were chosen as the spiritual leaders of the people. Miriam was obedient, clever and wise. She was musical and a leader among women later in life. Moses revealed his character in his choice, choosing the afflictions of his people rather than to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter. He has a faith and courage that leads an enslaved race out of bondage to a land of freedom."

"But back of these noble children there is a noble mother. She is seen weaving a basket during the hours when she is home from work. How carefully she must have selected the material woven into that basket. Into our lives there is interwoven much of mother's prayer, care and devotion."

SACRIFICES OF MOTHER TOLD BY REV. OWINGS

The Rev. Harry Evan Owings, pastor of the First Baptist church, used as the topic for his sermon yesterday, "Mother's Cathedral."

He said in part: "In the field of architecture there is no work more sublime in its grandeur and suggestiveness than the cathedral. Well may it serve as metaphor of a mother's work in constructing noble life and character in her son and daughter."

"The foundation of her cathedral a mother lays herself. First as she cradles the child in her body and then in her arms she provides the physical and mental and moral qualities upon which the life of that child is to be built. But the superstructure of her cathedral she may not construct as she wishes. She has her fond dreams of its plans and adornments but here her work must be given over to another. The son himself, the daughter herself now does the work and must decide whether the mother's highest hopes and expectations are to be realized or dashed to the ground and hopelessly thwarted."

"An indispensable element of a cathedral is that it is built on the plan of a cross. This is the plan of Mother's cathedral. It is the symbol of her sacrificial suffering for her offspring and must ever be at the center of our living. The token of the highest and holiest life, the emblem of the life of our Saviour, thank God she places it there as her cathedral's basic design."

YOUNG WOMEN OF TODAY ARE SCORED BY REV. C. D. HICKS AS FAILURES IN MOTHERHOOD

"If we could call the unborn generation to behold their mothers, what would they see?" questioned the Rev. C. D. Hicks, pastor of the Christian Missionary Alliance, in his sermon yesterday. Answering his own question, the minister sternly scored the young womanhood of today:

"The present day flapper, of course, her body scarcely dressed, her face bedecked with rouge and smeared with paint and a cigarette in her mouth; her greatest ambition to be anything but the housewife and a mother. She would a thousand times rather pet a poll-parrot and kiss a poodle dog than to nurse a baby. She reads more books on birth control and divorce than on 'How to Care for the Baby' and 'Home Happiness.'"

"There seems to be an underlying, subconscious feeling that there is a kind of stigma on the girl who desires most of all to be a home maker and a mother of loving children. This is caused from the fact that we are laying our best trophies and giving the greatest honors to the girls who can plead the case in court, sell the most real estate, run the most successful business and be the most popular leader in society, while men, who should be on these jobs, either are hunting jobs, or are at home spanking the children and getting the meals."

"The mothers of old loved their jobs and here, my friends, America is approaching a peril that threatens the very foundations of our nation. With too many mothers, today, homemaking is a task of most likable nature. As a result, home is no longer a refuge from troubles and worrisome tasks, but only a place to eat and sleep and pay house rent. The house is entirely empty during the day. Mother working, father working, children either on the street or in school, and the rule of the home is for the first one home to get busy on supper. This is really not a great task these days, for anyone can operate a can opener, light a gas stove and set a table, can get the meal in five minutes. And this is called 'home.' "Behold thy mother."

"If we are to find the true source of greatness of our national leaders, we must behold their mothers. It is that mother's love, that mother's care and that mother's inspiration which has given them the inspiration for the highest and noblest."

"No name stands out clearer in the early dawn of the church, than that of St. Augustine, who was in his early days a profligate and a libertine, but who said it was his mother's teaching and love that inspired him to become the saint he was."

"The mother of the Wesleys, who was the twenty-fourth child and herself a mother of 16 children, was always acknowledged by John Wesley as the one great inspiration of his life. When he was a Fellow in Lincoln college, he wrote her and asked her to give him an hour of her thought and prayer every Thursday night as she used to do when he was a boy at home. "George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt and many other of our greatest leaders all acknowledge the success that was theirs was largely due to the inspiration received from the care, love and devotion of their mothers."

"I say to you, if we keep the present standard before your children for another generation, the women who should really be mothers of our sons and daughters will be childless while the least fit, the least capable, the least desirable will produce the sons who are to be our leaders."

The railroads of the United States use about 130,000,000 new wood ties every year.

'FALLEN MAN' SUNDAY TOPIC OF SCIENTISTS

"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday in all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The Golden Text was from Romans: "They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God; but the children of the promise are counted for the seed."

The Lesson-Sermon included citations from the Bible and from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

Among the Scriptural verses were the following words of Paul: "For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive" and "Stand therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage."

The following words of Mrs. Eddy were among the Science and Health passages: "Anybody who is able to perceive the incongruity between God's idea and poor humanity, ought to be able to discern the distinction (made by Christian Science) between God's man, made in His image, and the sinning race of Adam; 'Citizens of the world, accept the glorious liberty of the children of God,' and be free!"

READ HIS MESSAGE!

"Seven years ago, in 1922, and two years after I purchased this garage and service station, I became a dealer in this district for Diamond Tires. My decision to become a dealer for these tires was made after a thorough investigation as to the needs and desires of my customers in consideration of local conditions. "After deciding what kind of tire my patrons wanted, I studied the market and the different tires offered, finally deciding upon the brand I have sold to this date—Diamonds. My decision was made because of two dominating facts. First—because Diamond Tires were the tires my customers wanted and because they were tires that would entirely satisfy, and second—because of the superiority of the Miller Corporation's service to their dealers. "My judgment of that time has been supported many times over during these past seven years. The tires have lived up to their name of being THE quality tire of the field, and as improvements and changes have become known, these tires were among the first to install them. Prices have always been fair, even lower than some others on the market, while the quality has been that of a leader.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly the value of the Miller Corporation's service to me as one of their many dealers. They are fair, courteous and reliable, and give me fast, dependable service. Their stock is at all times most complete and fresh, and when I need a tire I do not stock, they give me IMMEDIATE service—less than 30 minutes. They back me in all decisions I make, and do all they can to help me over-satisfy my customers. No dealer could ask or expect more."

Butterfly Party Held At Hospitable Home Of Mrs. Kellogg

A butterfly party, unique in every detail, was given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Will S. Kellogg at her home, 2412 Poinsettia avenue, with her mother, Mrs. Iva M. Webber, assisting.

Bouquets of sweet peas in lovely pastel tints centered the tables, vying in color with the dainty rose but not cups and butterfly place cards.

Following the luncheon, a nature study contest was enjoyed with the attractive prize being won by Miss Pearl Camblin.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in the beautiful gardens of the Kellogg home where another game, butterflies, was won by Miss Margaret Grant.

A happy half hour followed when the charming hostess told the entertaining story of the miniature Japanese village that she has built in her garden.

Guests included Miss Verna Wells, Miss Isabel Lindsay, Miss Pearl Camblin, Miss Mae Pulham, Miss Beth Walker, Miss Thelma Garrard, Miss Margaret Grant, Miss Martha Wierck, Miss Rhea Miller, Miss Martha Ehlen, Miss Gladys Campbell, Mrs. Abbie Lowe, Mrs. Fannie Bragg, Mrs. N. E. Wells, and Mrs. Webber.

The Creators of Fashion have opened the door of opportunity

Nineteen-twenty-nine is decidedly a jewelry year—the vogue of color and the accepted designs of frocks and gowns emphasize jewelry as an accessory. The informal neckline, the sleeveless frock, the small hat require necklaces, bracelets and earrings—not one of each but several, as color must complete the costume. Another interesting result of the new importance of jeweled accessories is its influence on masculine jewelry. Now that the style creators have made jewelry an essential feature of correct dress, we contend that it should be purchased in a jewelry store.

Mrs. Marks represented the Santa Ana Women's clubs, Mrs. Crose the Ebell club, and Mrs. Nelson is state chairman on co-operations with war veterans.

Mrs. S. W. Stanley also attended the convention but she and Mr. Stanley continued on an automobile trip to northern California.

According to the Santa Ana women, outstanding addresses made at the conference were "Musso-lini and New Italy" by Walter Morrill who spent a number of years in that country, "Motor Pictures" by Ben Allen, member of the editorial staff of a motion picture magazine, and "Literature and Life" by Edward Hulme of Stanford university.

Of special interest was the awarding of prizes in two contests sponsored by the federation. The first contest was held under auspices of the music department and a prize was promised the group of women to present the best Spanish program. The prize, a handsome painting of the San Juan Capistrano mission, was won by San Juan study circle of Benito county. The picture was presented by Mrs. Florence Dobson Shoneman of Los Angeles, formerly Florentia Sepulveda.

The second contest was for the junior membership and consisted of essays based on the motto of the federation, "Strength United Is Stronger." This was won by Miss Kathleen Perigo of Taft.

New officers who were elected included Mrs. William Walter Sladen of Los Angeles, president; Miss Josephine Seaman of La Jolla, vice president; Mrs. Annie Little Barry, of Berkeley, vice president-at-large; Mrs. William L. Sales of Petaluma, secretary; Mrs. L. L. Freeman of Berryville, treasurer, and Mrs. W. S. Cairns of Lindsay, auditor.

Popular Young People Announce Date of Wedding

That Miss Henrietta Lykko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Lykko of North Van Ness avenue, has set June 17 as the date on which she will wed Watson J. Moreland of this city was the happy news disclosed Saturday at a smart bridge luncheon given at the Santa Ana cafe by Miss Lykko's sisters, Mrs. Arnold Faccou, Mrs. Fred Merker of Ventura, Mrs. Robert Deininger of Torrance, and Mrs. Carl Edgar.

The delightful secret was discovered when guests gathered about the one large table centered with a huge basket of spring flowers flanked on either side by two golden May poles to which ribbons in pastel tints were caught by Miss Lykko's bridesmaids. Completing the appointments were the miniature wedding party arranged in front of the honoree's place and the nut cups of fluffy molin presided over by tiny fairies in whose bonnets were small cards bearing the names of Miss Lykko and Mr. Moreland with the date of their wedding.

Following the luncheon, bridge was enjoyed during the afternoon and the pretty prizes were won by Mrs. Charles Woodfill, Mrs. Forrest Whitson and Miss Cynthia Kliven.

Both Miss Lykko and Mr. Moreland are well known in this city. She is a graduate of the Santa Ana high school where she was very popular and at present she is employed at the Edison company.

Mother and Sisters Are Hostesses at Party For Miss Banks

Mrs. L. M. Banks of 702 Spurgeon street and her daughters, Mrs. W. R. Bennett of Monrovia and Mrs. Harry Selmonson of this city, were hostesses Saturday afternoon at a bridge luncheon given at the Santa Ana country club to announce the engagement of Mrs. Banks' youngest daughter, Miss Mary Evelyn Banks, and Dr. Vincent C. Croal.

Five tables were arranged in the solarium for the luncheon with Miss Banks presiding at the large table where pink gladioluses and white sweet peas were combined in an attractive center piece with candles and other appointments in tints of pink.

The smaller tables were centered with colorful bouquets of spring flowers, the colors of which were reflected in the pretty corsages at each place. In each corsage was a small card announcing the approaching wedding of Miss Banks and Dr. Croal.

At the bridge games, Miss Evelyn Croal scored high with Mrs. William Faulkner second and Miss Della Iman low. Each received an attractive gift.

Miss Banks attended St. Mary in the Woods in Indiana and since her graduation has made her home here with her parents.

Dr. Croal, the son of Mrs. Mary Croal of 1015 Highland avenue, is a graduate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of San Francisco. His former home was in Aberdeen, South Dakota.

C. Phillips, Lemon Heights.

Later in the evening the entire party motored to Laguna Beach, where they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Willington and Thomas H. Glenn at the Wellington cottage. Young Girls Enjoy Bridge Luncheon at Rose Arbor

The last social affair at which a group of ninth grade students of the Frances Willard junior high school will be together took place Saturday afternoon when the Misses Jean Leive, Leonora Walker were hostesses at a delightfully appointed bridge luncheon given at the Rose Arbor Inn.

A color scheme of green and white was used in charming fashion in the gay spring colors of quaint nut cups and place cards that afterwards served as large tallies. In various duties young hostesses were assisted by their mothers, Mrs. G. W. Leive and Mrs. Walter Walker.

Bridge was enjoyed during the afternoon and for those who did not play bridge a game of cards was arranged. The pretty prizes awarded Miss Mary Tuthill, Miss Susannah Alexandria, Miss Marjorie Lauderbach, and Miss Leive.

Pretty Home Wedding Is Impressive In Its Simplicity

Impressive in its simplicity was the wedding of Miss Juliet Evans, a brunette daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hamilton Evans of 2131 North Main street, and Harry Averling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Renee H. Weavering of San Francisco, that took place Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents.

Quantities of lovely spring flowers made an appropriate setting for the bride. Miss Evans' dress was enhanced by a beaming frock of blue and white harmonizing accessories. She carried roses and lilies of the valley. The Rev. Harry Evans, pastor of the First Baptist church, where Mr. Evans is organist, officiated.

Following a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Weavering will be established at 821 1-2 South Van Street. The bride attended the Santa Ana high school and junior college where she was very popular. She was a member of several clubs and was captain of the girls' key team her first year in junior college. At present she is employed at the Hollywood Apparel shop.

Clinic Supper, Shower Enjoyed

The approaching marriage of Miss Marjorie Pollock, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Pollock of Santa Ana to Robertson Davidson of Orange was the incentive for a delightful event one last week when Miss Bonnell, Miss Frances Harper, Miss Russell Butler, and Miss Lavinia Minton were hostesses at a picnic supper at Irvine park.

The supper tables spread beneath the great oak trees of the park were made doubly interesting by the use of quantities of sweet as of varied colors and nut cups of golden hues. Many articles of silverware which will take their place in the home of the bride were bestowed upon Miss Pollock by her friends.

Guests invited for the affair were Miss Florine Pollock, Miss Lois Campbell, Miss Janet Elljah, Miss Louise Dewes, Miss Beryl Campbell, Miss Shirley Haynes, Miss Janet Watson, Miss Louise Rabe, and Miss Helen Baker.

Keeps Tab, Pleasantly, on the Children

Maintaining dignified and amicable relations with one's children isn't as easy a matter as formerly. Children are seen and very much heard today, and they accept with poor grace, oftentimes with none, arbitrary commands to do such and so, or else...

One family among my acquaintances solves the question of "keeping tabs" on the children very cleverly. A pad and pencil are kept beside the telephone and each child, when going out, is expected to write down where he is going, and the phone number if possible, and the time he expects to be home.

The mother told me before she hit on this idea she worried from the moment Bob and Betty left the house until they got back, but under this plan, knowing exactly where they are, she knows she can telephone them.

She also finds that this method has its disciplinary effect in developing in the children a sense of responsibility and thoughtfulness towards her.

Don't you think this plan beats the nagging and scolding that goes on in many homes?

TODAY'S RECIPE

Chicken and Peas Spanish

Part I

- 1 large frying chicken
- Chicken giblets
- 1 large onion, sliced
- 1 tablespoon minced parsley
- 1-2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- Cooking fat, about 1-2 cup
- 1-2 pound raw sliced ham

Part II

- 1 bouillon cube
- 2 cups hot water
- 2 teaspoons flour
- Salt and pepper
- 1 teaspoon olive oil
- 1 teaspoon tarragon vinegar
- 1 quart fresh green peas

This is a delightful recipe for the Chicken and Green Pea season fast approaching, and not half as complicated as the recipe looks.

Of course you save bacon fat for such occasions as this, I hope. Heat the fat in a heavy skillet and in it saute the sliced onion, liver, gizzard and heart cut thin. When the onion is golden brown skim these ingredients out of the fat and start the chicken and ham cooking, both are cut in convenient pieces, the chicken rolled in flour and seasoned. While the chicken and ham are cooking to a nice brown get part 2 started:

Blend flour and olive oil together, add hot water and bouillon cube and make a thin gravy. To this add the minced parsley, lemon peel and tarragon vinegar, and then—

Transfer the chicken and ham from the frying fat to the gravy, add the sauted onion and giblets and the quart of fresh shelled peas and cook slowly until the peas are tender. Taste and add more seasoning if needed.

To serve: Pile the pieces of chicken and ham in the center of a hot platter and surround with the peas and gravy. You have no idea how good this way of cooking chicken can be until you try it.

About 3000 calories with enough to serve six hungry people, will be found in this recipe. All three types of food are here as well as several valuable mineral elements.

The current leaflet HOUSEHOLD HINTS AND HELPS is well worth the trouble of sending in your stamped, self-addressed envelope. I have listed in it all sorts of items and ideas, from the removal of stains to how to make the children behave!

Tomorrow's recipe is the contribution of a reader of the Mixing Bowl, a very good one, by the way, and she calls it Chocolate Delight Cake.

At the Theatres

WEST COAST-WALKER

Mystery and intrigue dominate the screen at the Walker theater, where "The Donovan Affair," opening yesterday, will be presented for the final showing on tonight's bill. "The Donovan Affair" is warranted to send chills down any spine, with its weird murders and its mystic cat's eye ring. But for every thrill there is a laugh as humorous situations develop—thanks to Ethel Wales and her twins, and that absurd detective that has played in so many mystery stories.

DOROTHY REVIER
The DONOVAN AFFAIR

Jack Holt is admirable in his work as the detective in charge of unravelling the mystery, while Dorothy Revier, William Collier Jr., Wheeler Oakman, Agnes Ayers, John Roche—in fact, all the remaining members of the cast, seem to be absolutely right in every detail.

The story moves swiftly to its climax, and the manner in which suspense is built up, makes it doubly interesting. It is one of the Walker theater's "all-talking" features, and will be succeeded tomorrow by another, "Stark Mad."

A Robert Benchley comedy and an unusually entertaining vaudeville complete the bill, with news features and similar diversions. The dancing and an amusing pair who kept last night's audience rocking with mirth, are outstanding features of the vaudeville program.

YOST BROADWAY

"Come, let's salute the new Mary Pickford, America's old sweetheart is dead. Long live the new sweetheart with the charm and the modern appeal of the latest Mary Pickford."

Thus speaks Louella Parsons, nationally known writer of film news and personalities.

MARY PICKFORD
IN "COQUETTE"

Everyone knows "Our Mary" last night at the Broadway theater, will agree that she was quite right, for in "Coquette" Mary is the most fascinating little heart smasher imaginable. She retains all the charm of the little-girl Mary of her first successes, plus the poise and loveliness of a gently bred young girl of all the old southern traditions.

This story is an interesting one, but Mary is of supreme interest, and will retain the affection of all her old admirers in addition to gaining a host of new ones.

Frederick Collins, well-known magazine writer, visited Hollywood a short time ago in search of a possible successor to Mary Pickford, among the young women who have leaped to screen prominence. He summed up his investigations by declaring, "Our Mary" in her sweet and simple way, has steadfastly declined to be succeeded as the movie queen. She has been nice to the baby star, but she has defeated her own best intentioned efforts for them by appearing in their collective photographs as the youngest and the fairest of the lot.

"Coquette" on the screen is supplemented by Vitaphone features including an all-talking College story, and yesterday had added charm in a special mother's day solo illustrated on the screen.

WEST END

"A Woman of Affairs" a film from a story by Michael Arlen, with John Gilbert and Greta Garbo as stars, and with a supporting cast which includes Lewis Stone, Hobart Bosworth, Dorothy Sebastian, John Mack Brown and Douglas Fairbanks Jr., is now showing at the West End theater.

Clarence Brown, who directed Gilbert and Miss Garbo in "Flesh and the Devil," their first appearance together, was the director. Miss Garbo has the role of a high spirited English society girl, a very different type from those she has essayed before. For the part she has relinquished what has been termed the "Garbo sink," and has even changed the style of her clothes.

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY MAI COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

"Oh, my!" cried Clowny. "Let's sit down and eat that bread. It's nice and brown. When honey's spread upon it, it will surely taste real good. If no one seems to really care, I'll start right now to eat my share. Why, I could eat one loaf myself. At least I think I could."

"Hey! Wait a minute! Don't you dare," said Scooty. "You shall have your share, but there are only two large loaves. That's not one loaf for each. Now, don't be selfish. That's not rite. Remember, you're a Tinymite. Don't make it so that we must put this bread out of your reach."

"Now, now," exclaimed the baker man. "Our bread must stay right in the pan until it cools a little bit. 'Tis best to be discreet. I will not have had tummy aches from eating things this baker bakes. You've surely heard that hot bread is a real bad thing to eat."

The bread was then set out to cool. "We mind," said Copy, "as a rule, so we will gladly sit and wait until you say the word. 'Twould be real sad if we'd get sick on bread that really looks so slick. To disobey your kind advice, of course, would be absurd."

"I'll take a nap," the baker said, "while we are waiting on this bread. In 'bout an hour, please wake me. Then we all will have a thrill." The Tinies promised that they would, and also promised they'd be good. They knew that later on, of bread they all would have their fill.

Just then the Goofygoon jumped quick and pulled a very unkind trick. It grabbed one of the loaves of bread, and ran off on the hop. It took the Tinies by surprise. They stared at him with open eyes. Then Clowny jumped up to his feet and shouted, loudly, "Stop!"

(Clowny catches the Goofygoon in the next story.)

EVENING SALUTATION

But he whose inborn worth his acts commend,
Of gentle soul, to human race a friend.
—Homer.

THE BRITISH ELECTION

The attention of the world will be pretty much on the British elections for the next two weeks.

Under the leadership of Stanley Baldwin at the head of the Conservative party, David Lloyd George
at the head of the Liberals, and Ramsay MacDonald at the head of the Labor party, Great Britain is passing through a political campaign, the interest in which has been surpassed by no campaign in recent years.

There is being an effort made to unite the forces of the Liberals and Conservatives in order to defeat
the Labor party, but it is very likely that the time has passed for such action to be taken. Lloyd George's hope lies in the possibility of the Conservatives and Liberals together having enough votes in Parliament to defeat the Labor group, and that the outgoing Premier will designate him, Lloyd George, rather than Ramsay MacDonald, as the King's representative in Parliament.

Lloyd George and others are persistently calling the Labor party a "Socialist" party, but it should be borne in mind that the Labor party of Great Britain has by no means the radical program as has the Socialist party in the United States. The Labor party is more in Great Britain a party of opportunism, proposing government control or ownership of specific matters like coal mines, rather than having any general program of the means of production and distribution of wealth being owned by the government. The Labor party, in the brief period it was in power some years ago, discovered that it could not be as radical in action even at that as in theory, and Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer during that period, and one of the chief figures and leaders of the Labor party, declared that there could be, in the very nature of things, no radical change in any fundamentals of government.
Undoubtedly the defeat of the general strike two years ago has augmented the power of the Labor party, because a great many who thought their hope lay along the lines of economic advancement through trade unions have given that up, and are depending upon political action in its stead.

There is no doubt that the general labor conditions
of Great Britain, the unemployment, have militated
daily in favor of the Labor party, and Ramsay MacDonald's recent utterance against further armament and military activities will also add to the prestige of the Labor party. The wily Lloyd George is hoping to gain many votes, and hopes he has gained great prestige by his famous declaration that he would be able to solve the unemployment problem, and that he will have 600,000 more men at work immediately after election, provided the Liberal party has won, may have some effect.

Some years ago, this would have had great weight with the Labor forces, and possibly with the Conservative as well, but Lloyd George's anxiety to win
is too self-evident; the searchlight has been upon him so, together with the result of his too great readiness to change his opinions to suit any passing fancy, has brought him very clearly before the members of the opposing parties as unstable, and they doubt his own sincerity in his power to even approach
what he suggests he will do.

The unemployment problem is the great one economically before the world today, and it must be reached from an economic angle. It cannot be solved by what is ordinarily spoken of as "playing politics."

A 33-karat diamond was found in Africa the other day. Wonder who will get it—Peggy Joyce or Texas Guinan?

IF IT BE TRUE

Reports have been coming from Germany that the May Day Communist riots were largely provoked by hysterical police and not by the seriousness of the Communist uprising. The reports come from very reliable sources, and knowing the general attitude of the German people, we are inclined to believe that there is some truth in the reports.

It may be recalled that immediately after the armistice the Communists tried to gain control of the German government and establish in Germany the Soviet regime of Russia. If ever, the time was ripe for so radical a move. The army and navy were in mutiny, and Germany had been beaten to its knees in even a more humiliating fashion than it had been by Napoleon in 1806. The masses were in despair.
Yet there was stability enough at that time to avert the catastrophe. If that danger was so easily and successfully met at that time it is difficult to understand why the formidable uprising of Berlin on May day should have taken place. Even today, as a recent writer has shown, the temper of the German people is strongly subservient to law and tradition.
We know of few countries, if indeed any, where the tragic conditions of 1918 would not have produced a much more radical revolution than that which actually took place in Germany. We are inclined to believe that conditions in Berlin were not so serious as those brought to us by the first reports.

NIGHT CLUB LIFE IN NEW YORK

The report comes from New York that the night clubs have fallen upon evil days. The persistent hammering of law enforcement officials against them has frightened the patrons of the night club, even though it may not have led to the conviction of notorious proprietors like Helen Morgan and Texas Guinan. The habitués of night clubs do not relish being pounced upon in the midst of their revels, hustled into police vans, and being exposed to the world. The few daring ones may be willing to take a chance, but the crowds needed to make the night club go are just now giving them the go-by.

Then, too, it has been said that the expense of enjoying the pleasures of the night club have become almost prohibitive. One of the Federal inspectors who gathered the evidence against Texas Guinan and Helen Morgan said that it cost an average of $66 an evening for him to gather the evidence, and that was cheap. Those who went the limit spent into the hundreds for an evening's pleasure at these resorts. This, added to the fact that the police might pounce in any moment, makes the night club anything but attractive.

WILL TALK IT OVER

Well, we note that President Hoover is to have Senator Fess and Senator Borah as his guests at dinner, though separately.

Senator Fess has just finished his speech in which he had designated Senator Borah and the other men who voted with him in favor of the debentures in the farm relief bill as pseudo-Republicans. Senator Borah resented it. Hoover says, to each: "Come around and dine with me and we will talk it over."
And we would like to listen in at these two dinner conversations.

No one has ever questioned Senator Fess' loyalty to the administration. We are not speaking of this administration, but of any administration. He is for the President. The President's views are his views, and he wants everybody to know it. Senator Fess is loyal to the Republican party. He submerges his own views and too much of his own personality,
we think, and possibly his own reasoning power, into the views of the President.

Senator Fess is an able man. He is a student.
He could easily be considered a scholar, were it not for the fact that he has placed limitations on his own personal thinking. Hence he cannot understand a man like Senator Borah. Senator Borah has been loyal to President Hoover, supporting him in the campaign, and will support him during his administration, on those things wherein he believes Mr.
Hoover represents the right views, but Senator Borah, in his Republicanism, has never thought that his own personal reasoning should be abdicated in favor of the judgment of any other individual. He feels that the people of Idaho sent him there, and they also assisted in the election of the President, that both should get along together without the obliteration of either personality. He talks a different language than Senator Fess. We have never heard of his publicly criticizing Senator Fess for his attitude, and we think that he showed commendable
patience after Senator Fess had criticized him.

We can well imagine that each of these two able gentlemen will have a fine time at Hoover's dinners.
Neither will change his views, however. Senator Borah will still be Senator Borah, and Senator Fess,
the personal representative of whomever is President.

WOMEN IN THE COUNCILS OF THE CHURCH

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States at its next session is to consider the matter of permitting women to serve on the governing boards of the individual churches. At a recent meeting of the Southern Baptist churches at Memphis, Tenn., a protest resolution was introduced against the making of a report by a woman to the convention. It is strange how in these days of the liberation of women from all the disabilities which restrained her in her freedom and her individual rights, when women can serve on juries and have been given the franchise, that churches should still hold in question the equal rights of women in the church.

Explicitly in the Southern Baptist Church, and implicitly in the Northern Presbyterian Church, the matter is one of Scriptural authority. St. Paul's attitude toward women was the attitude of his age.
Women were vassals of men, actually the property of husbands. Paul was big of heart but narrow of mind. When he reasons he has all the defects of the traditional logicians. When he lets his heart go as in the twelfth chapter of Romans, the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians, and the sixth chapter of Ephesians, he is one of the noblest and most liberal spirits who ever preached the gospel. The churches in the main in these days have been guided by the heart utterances of St. Paul, ignoring his Rabbinic and traditional augmentation. But the questions in the front of the conventions noted above
indicate that there are yet those who would follow
the head rather than the heart of the great apostle.

Still Plenty to Explore

Although we like to say that the unexplored
places of the earth have dwindled to insignificance,
places of the earth have dwindled to insignificance,
and that there is little space left in which an adventurous explorer can find anything really new, the department of the interior reveals that Alaska,
over which the American flag has flown for upwards of 60 years, still has thousands of square miles of wild land into which no white man has ever penetrated.

A party of scientists from the Geological Survey has just finished making a new set of maps, based on a two months' trip into the Alaskan interior
last summer. Their report is highly interesting;
it emphasizes the fact that Alaska, a tremendous tract of land a fifth the size of the United States, still has plenty of untracked wilderness to tempt
the venturesome.

The scientists had to go by the slow, laborious pack train method. The streams that they followed were swift even for modern motor boats. There were no roads; in many cases there were not even any trails. Week after week, the party struggled along into country no white man had seen before.

In two months time they did not see one human being. They did not even find any trace of natives.
They found a few remains of Indian encampments,
to be sure; but they were all at least thirty years old. The land apparently had been absolutely untenanted for at least three decades.

Somehow it is encouraging to read things like that. The United States is getting more populous.
Good roads, automobiles, a growing population and prosperity are making the "open spaces" fewer and farther apart than ever before. It is almost impossible for the average man to get completely out of sight or sound of civilization. Things are getting so that we rub elbows with our neighbors
a little too closely.

To be sure, very few of us will ever get to Alaska. But for some reason it is a bit comforting to know that there are still tremendous spaces there where the influence of civilization is not felt. The earth still holds desolate, unexplored territories—and we're all glad to hear it.

The Food Budget

When it is noted that $23,000,000,000, or 26 per cent of the total income in the United States, is spent annually for food, there comes a greater appreciation of the full significance of these words
by President Hoover in his message to the present
special session of Congress:

Every penny of waste between farmer and consumer that we can eliminate, whether it arises from methods of distribution or from hazard or speculation, will be a gain to both farmer and consumer.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

THE DAY OF OPPORTUNITY

When Johnnie gets up in the morning
He can tune in the radio set
And learn how to draw up a farm relief law
And to figure the national debt.
He can follow debates on debentures
Hear statistics on coal, oil and ore
And discover the reason that out of the season
Green peas and tomatoes cost more.

The methods that Einstein made use of
In charting the suns in their spheres
The reason that Mars is the reddest of stars
The child can absorb through his ears.
He can study our foreign relations
And hear learned experts explain
The absence of quail on the Oregon trail
And the lumber statistics of Maine.

He can hear all the news from Geneva
And learn what the statesmen have done
To make the whole girth of this once warring earth
Repose in a place in the sun.
By drinking in mind building knowledge
In this simple and sensible way
He'll have no time to shirk intellectual work
For school will continue all day.

Our forbears had no such advantage
And therefore but little they knew
They had to resort to illiterate sport.
For their hours for learning were few.
But Johnnie, without any effort
His small cerebrum can fill
With a marvelous store of fine brain filling lore—
He can, but I don't think he will!

BEYOND COMPETITION

The oil scandals seem to have discouraged the moving picture people.

A NOBLE EXPERIMENT

We wish Mr. Hoover every success in his determination to shake the hand shake.

YOU CAN NEVER TELL

It may be that the farmers won't feel really relieved till Congress adjourns.

Who Fixes Prices?

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and

WADDILL CATCHINGS

NOTE—Dr. Foster, eminent economist, is head of the Pollak Foundation for Economic Research; Mr. Catchings, renowned banker, began his career as a law clerk. The two have studied economics in all its phases, from the scientific viewpoint and from the practical. The keynote of their writings is: Prosperity can be made permanent.

The buyer determines the price. As a rule, the seller merely fixes the price at which goods are offered. But the buyer fixes the price at which goods are sold.

This may sound like nonsense to a man who has just bought a Ford car. He found the car already priced—priced too high to suit him. But he had to pay the price, or go without the car.
Nevertheless, this buyer and millions of others, in deciding to buy or not to buy at the offering price, tell Mr. Ford at which price he can dispose of a given output of cars. So on every road in the country there is some driver who has had a part in fixing the price of Ford cars.

No merchant ever suffers long under the delusion that he controls prices. He soon finds that, in filling out his price tags, he must either guess right concerning the action of buyers, or guess again. His cash register lets him know when he guesses right.

But, it is objected, human beings are obliged to buy some things. They cannot live like the beasts of the field. Even so, the rule holds. No matter whether it is bread or beads, the price is made by the people who buy that commodity instead of some other.

The buyer fixes the price.

Tomorrow—Competition of Buyers Fixes Prices.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

There is a new kind of biography.

The old biographer was in the business of manufacturing halos.
The new biographer is in the business of tarnishing halos.

The old biographer could usually be counted upon to give us a picture of the "great" man that would evoke reverence.

The new biographer can often be counted upon to give us a picture of the "great" man that will evoke revulsion.

The old biography at its worst was a kind of spiritual beauty parlor in which men's characters were primped and powdered.

The new biography at its worst is a kind of exploratory flight of the buzzard looking for decayed matter.

Neither is good biography.

The next cycle in biographical writing will avoid the sins of both the old and the new biography.

It will stop trying to find a single key to the characters of men.
It will frankly accept the fact that even the best men are creatures of a medley of motives.

It will realize that there are no men completely great,

men altogether small.

It will know that good badness interlock and that character is no one thing
him, but the net effect.

In the life of a man a kindly nature, it is said, that acts of hardness can covered, and so on with virtues.

Psychological research proved that this sort of sistency is the usual rather the unusual thing.

And we know now that tion cannot produce the results of neatness, accu-so on, by the simple de-training students to be inaccurate in some one subject.

The new biography has dean absurd credulity we about our heroes! It is in-
of giving us an equally cynicism.

The next cycle of biography should give us realistic into that medley of motive qualities called man.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

SWIMMING TIME

"Pete, you come right home from school today. You hear me?"

"Yes'm."

"Now remember I mean that. No swimming."

"Can't I just go and watch?"

"No, you can't just go and watch. First thing you know you're going to be drowned and what'll your father say?"

"Aw, mom, I'm not scared of the river. I can swim. Honest I can. Just ask Beany. The other
day—"

"Never mind telling me about the other day. I'm telling you, Pete. I don't want you to go near that river. One of these days a boy's going to fall in there and goodness knows what'll happen.
You come right home from school."

"Yes'm."

It was about five o'clock when Pete's mother awakened to the fact that the youngster had not come home from school. "I just knew he was bound for the river. I felt it in my bones. The look in his eye was enough. Well, by the time I got my things on and got down
there he'd be on the way home for supper. I'll have to do something with that boy."

Father and Pete came up the walk together. They seemed to come very quietly, yet with some

JAMESTOWN FOUNDED

Today is the anniversary of the founding of the first permanent English colony in America—Jamestown, Virginia, in 1607.

The party of colonists who founded it was ill-suited to the task, and only the miracle of John Smith saved Jamestown from the fury of the Indians during its first few years.

Of the 105 persons who disembarked
there 322 years ago today, only 12
were laborers and a few mechanics. The rest were gentlemen who expected to find great stores of gold laying about.

The expedition was in charge of Christopher Newport, John Smith,
at the beginning, was an inconspicuous member of the party. It was only after the stern fight which they would have to make against the wilderness became apparent that the colonists accepted the domineering leadership of John Smith.

Much of the history of the colony which Smith has left us is now
